JAP KILLS SELF WHEN HIS EMPEROR IS INCONVENIENCED

Train Superintendent Dies Under Cars Because Ruler Had to Wait in Comonm Depot.

VICTORIA, B. C., Dec. 8.—Giving his life as atonement because the Emperor of Japan was forced to spend an hour delayed in a common waiting room, Moji Shijiro Shimidzu, a train superintendent, threw himself under a train, according to advices brought by the Awa Maru.

Shimidzu was in charge of the arrangements of the Emperor's journey from Kyushu, where he witnessed the big army maneuvers, and the imperial train was delayed as a result of the derailment of a car due to a misplaced switch.

Shimidzu left a letter saying he considered it his duty to give his life to pay for the Emperor's embarrassment. The Emperor was much distressed when the incident was reported to him.

WANT TO FEEL YOUNG?

IT'S OLIVE TABLETS FOR YOU!

Beware of the habit of constipation. It develops from just a few constipated days, especially in Old People, unless you take yourself in hand.

Coax the jaded bowel muscles back to normal action with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Don't force them to unnatural action with severe medicines or by merely flushing out the intestines with nasty, sickening cathartics.

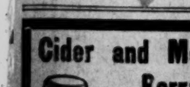

Dr. Edwards believes in gentleness, persistency and Nature's assistance.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle, yet positive. There is never any pain or griping when Olive Tablets are used. Just the kind of treatment old persons should have.

Try Olive Tablets mixed with olive oil and have no trouble with your bowels or stomach.

Aw, Cut Out the Slang!

JUDGE HOMER—there's a classic name—
Thinks slang in court is horrid.
Don't say your wifie "nicked your bean,"
If you mean she scratched your forehead.

DON'T say she "threw a green-eyed fit,"
If she was simply jealous;
And don't describe your hubby's beard
As "ivy on his trellis"

AND, pray don't say "he hoed his mug"
If he used a safety razor.
The Judge can't understand such "bunk"
And slang he finds a "phazer."

Mrs. Chas. A. Stix Routs Louis Aloe in Suffrage Debate--and Husband, Too

She Engages in an Impromptu Debate at the Columbian Club, Going to the Assistance of Wm. Marion Reedy.

Mrs. Charles A. Stix and her husband sat in their home at 2& Portland place Friday morning and discussed with a Post-Dispatch reporter, Mrs. Stix's notable achievement of Thursday afternoon when she routed Louis P. Aloe in a suffrage debate.

Stix took three cigars from his pocket. He handed one to the reporter, took one himself and—[illegible]ded the third to Mrs. Stix.

"Now that women want all the rights and privileges of men, I suppose you will join us in a smoke," he said, playful[illegible]

"No, th[illegible]k you," replied Mrs. Stix. "We h[illegible]n't got that far. We want men's rights, n[illegible]t their bad habits."

"Beaten again," said Stix, hastily putting the cigar[illegible] his pocket.

Sorry It Wasn't Husband.

"I'm awfully sorry," mused Mrs. Stix. "Why, b[illegible]use you broke into that debate?"

"No, because it wasn't you, instead of Mr. Aloe, that I spoke against."

Mrs. Stix then explained that when Miriam Lodge of the United Order of True Sisters planned the suffrage debate it was expected that Stix would be chosen to speak against women suffrage.

"But he backed out," she said. "He didn't even appear at the meeting yesterday afternoon at the Columbia Club."

William Marion Reedy was the speaker in favor of woman's suffrage and Louis P. Aloe took the negative side.

"I wasn't on the program," said Mrs. Stix, "but when Mr. Aloe asked how women would like to serve in the army and on juries I just couldn't resist the impulse to jump up and answer him.

"As to jury service, I told him that my husband and my father, Ma[illegible] Fraley, had lived in St. Louis all their lives and had never served on juries. If they could escape service, why couldn't women escape it? Mr. Aloe admitted he couldn't answer that argument.

"I told Mr. Aloe it was silly for him to ask how women would like to serve in the army. He missed the point entirely.

"You see, if women had the ballot they would never vote for war. Therefore we wouldn't have any armies, and of course women couldn't serve in the army if there wasn't any.

"I am for suffrage because the women want it.

'I think we should have anything we want.

"The men are to blame for this suffrage movement. They give women too much leisure.

"Women have servants to do everything for them—even to take care of their babies—and they have to hunt for something to occupy their time.

"I think it is better for society women to take part in the suffrage movement than to put in all their spare time playing bridge.

"I gave it to Mr. Aloe. I wish Mr. Stix had been there."

"Things are getting too hot here for me," said Stix. "I think its time for me to start downtown."

"That's the way with you men," replied Mrs. Stix. "When you can't answer our arguments you run away."

Mrs. Stix took the meeting by storm when she rose to reply to Aloe. Though many of the women at the meeting were avowed suffragists it was not believed that one could be found brave enough to join in the debate. Mrs. Stix's appearance in the field caused exclamations of surprise. When she lit into Aloe with a veritable broadside of argument there was a burst of applause and women crowded around the platform making Reedy and Aloe look like two masculine islands in a sea of femininity.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Stix's speech the salvos of applause were so loud and long that no one else had a chance to talk and the meeting came to an end.

Louis P. Aloe, whose batteries of eloquence were silenced by Mrs. Stix, admitted his defeat Friday.

"How can a man hope to win in a suffrage debate with a woman," he said. "I figuratively had both of Billy Reedy's shoulders on the mat. If I had known a woman was to join in the debate I would not have taken the floor. You see, I was at a decided disadvantage. There were nearly five hundred women in the audience. The meeting was packed against me. I didn't have a chance. That's all."

Believes This Will 'Cure Lung Troubles"

Consumption is a flattering disease—that is one of its chief dangers. Those who have it are rarely willing to acknowledge the fact.

If this trouble is present, it is no time for trifling. Don't waste time in argument. If a so-called "cold" has long persisted: if a cough is present that keeps you anxious, or any of the symptoms are present, such as fever or night sweats, weakness and loss of appetite, and perhaps some raising of mucus—do the sensible thing: take Eckman's Alterative, as Mr. Bettersworth did.

Bowling Green, Ky., R. No. 4.

"Gentlemen: I wish to say for your Alterative that I believe it to be a medicine of unequaled value for all Bronchial and Lung trouble.

"The Spring of 1908, I had a severe cough for six months. I tried all the medicine that my friends and doctors recommended to me, but no results came for the better. I had night sweats, and would cough and spit up every night until I got so weak I could hardly do anything. But at last, James Deering, of Glasgow Junction, insisted that I try your medicine, which I ordered at once and began taking the same. In one week's time there was quite an improvement in my condition, and after I had taken several bottles I felt as well as ever in my life. I never wrote any firm or company a letter recommending their medicine before, as there are so many fakes that a medicine of genuine quality don't get credit or even tried.

"I desire the world to know that I firmly believe that your Eckman's Alterative will cure any case of lung trouble if taken before the last stage. I will gladly write personally to any party wanting information in regard to your wonderful medicine." (Signed Affidavit)

MRS. C. BETTERSWORTH.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by Raboteau Drug Co., Wolff-Wilson Co., Judge & Dolph Drug Co., and other leading druggists. ACCUSED JEWELERS' CLERK GIVES BOND

Henry Schroeder Awaits Investigation of Reported $30,000 Shortage.

Henry Schroeder of 3639 Humphrey street gave a common law bond of $5000 in the Criminal Court late Thursday afternoon to answer any charge that may be brought against him in connection with a discrepancy in the accounts of the L. Bauman Jewelry Co.

Schroeder for 12 years before his dismissal six weeks ago, was confidential bookkeeper of the company. Officials of the company Thursday gave out a statement that a $30,000 discrepancy in the accounts has been found.

Circuit Attorney Jones when asked the amount of the shortage smiled and replied: "Well, what was the amount of the bond?" In most embezzlement cases the bond is fixed at or near the amount of the defalcation.

DR. J. R. ROBINSON EXPECTED TO SUE FOR DIVORCE NOW

Failure of Wife's Action Makes Friends Believe Husband Will Seek Freedom.

WED 14 MONTHS AGO

Elopement Was Followed by Many Disagreements, Mrs. Robinson Declares.

Friends of Dr. Jesse R. Robinson anticipate that he will file suit for divorce within a short time, following the failure of his wife, Manette Thiel Robinson of 4024 Lindell boulevard, to obtain a decree.

The weakness of the wife's allegations, the chief of which concerned the loss of her dog and the conduct of her mother-in-law, caused Judge Fisher Thursday to refuse her a legal separation, although the husband did not resist her suit. New allegations, it is expected, will appear in the coming suit.

Dr. Robinson, a dentist, and Miss Thiel, daughter of the late G. H. Thiel, founder of a detective agency, eloped to Carlinville, Ill., and were married 14 months ago.

The Wife's Testimony.

Jeptha D. Howe was the wife's lawyer. In her petition and her testimony, she said her married life was happy until last February, when her dog disappeared. She asked her husband if he had the dog taken away. He became extremely angry, she said, and refused to call at her mother's home for her after she had gone there for a visit. He also told her that she must return to their home and ordered her to send an express wagon to take away her personal belongings. He told her that he would not enter the house if he found her there, she said.

She had her clothing and other effects removed to her mother's Lindell boulevard home. Later, she said, one of her woman friends called Dr. Robinson on the telephone and suggested a reconciliation.

Dr. Robinson's reply, according to the wife, was: "O, hell; let her go. I don't need her anyway." There was then a series of reconciliations and quarrels.

Says Husband Struck Her.

Last June, she alleged, her husband accused her of drinking and followed her about the house trying to smell her breath. She pushed him away and he struck her, knocking her across a bed, she said. Mrs. Robinson said Dr. Robinson never gave her any clothing and that all the money he gave her since their marriage was $2.

KNOX PURE PLAIN SPARKLING GELATINE

is an all-round kitchen necessity—it garnishes the meats, gives body to the jells, stiffens the sauce and gravies, thickens the soup, gives consistency to ices and ice creams, and is the basis for countless delicious desserts. Here is just one, for example.

MAPLE SPONGE

Recipe for Maple Sponge. Boil two cups brown or maple sugar and ½ cup hot water to a syrup. Soak ½ package of Knox Sparkling Gelatine in 1½ cups cold water and pour hot syrup over this. Put in cool place; when nearly set, beat in stiffly beaten whites of two or three eggs and cup of English walnuts, cut up fine. Serve with custard made of yolks of the eggs, 1 pint milk and 3 tablespoonfuls sugar.

Every Knox package contains 2 envelopes of gelatine, the 2 making 2 full quarts of jelly.

Our Free Recipe Book gives any number of recipes for dainty desserts, salads, etc. Sent free for your grocer's name.

RED EAGLE TO MORGAN

Official Announcement Gazetted of Decoration's Bestowal.

BERLIN, Dec. 8.—The bestowal of the decoration of the first-class of the Order of the Red Eagle on J. P. Morgan is officially announced in the Imperial Gazette today. At the same time the notification is made that the Red Eagle of the third class had been given to Richard August Schnabel of New York.

The insignia of the order were presented to Mr. Morgan during the Kiel yachting week.

Christmas Tree Fire Causes Panic.

HANCOCK, Mich., Dec. 8.—At the Atlantic School, where teachers had prepared a Christmas tree and a program of exercises, the evergreen branches caught fire and a panic followed. Two teachers fainted, but the flame was extinguished with small damage.

Sincerity Clothes are as good clothes as any man would want to wear. In fit, fabric and workmanship they excel. "Croak" knows this to be the plain, unadulterated fact.

"CROAK" doesn't waste his time and spend his money telling the public of something he doesn't do. That sort of advertising don't pay. When we invite you clothing buyers to come here with the promise of unusual value-giving, we make good. That's why "Croak's" business grows.

We Continue That Great Sale of Suits and Overcoats Tomorrow

You've probably heard about it from some of your friends who bought here last Saturday. One of the leading clothing manufacturers of the United States offered Croak a bargain in fine suits and overcoats—the same kind of high-grade clothes that "Croak" has a reputation for selling. We weren't a bit slow about gathering them in, either, for we knew you wanted them, especially at a fourth to a third less than they are actually worth.

The suits are made of pure all-wool worsteds and cheviots, in beautiful blues, browns and grays; the overcoats are in full box and semiform-fitting Chesterfield, convertible collar, and other popular models. Six weeks ago nobody could have sold you these fine suits and overcoats for less than $25 to $30. "Croak" now offers you choice of entire lot for $17.50

Also a special lot of 300 Overcoats, new models, worth $18 and $20; choice $11.00
And 200 Men's and Young Men's Suits, $20 values, for Saturday.....$14.50

You'll find Croak "himself" on the job, anxious to personally serve his old friends and patrons.

SEVERE ITCHING AND BURNING ALL OVER.

Scalp, Body, Hands, Limbs Covered with Scales. Could Not Stand Torture. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

"About three years ago I was attacked with a very severe itching and burning all over my body and finally my skin broke until my body looked like a piece of raw meat. I did believe that I could not stand the torture any longer, while all the time I was using the salve and the wash ordered by my physician without relief. When I was advised to go to a skin specialist I went with no better results. My body was covered with large white scales, with scales on my hands, arms and lower limbs. In about one week my scalp was covered with scales which looked like dandruff but became worse each day until at the end of another week the scales were as large as on a fish. The itch in my head was unbearable. My hair was coming out in combfuls until it looked so bad I was ashamed to go on the street.

"I used tar soap for a shampoo but it took no effect. At the end of three weeks the back of my head was completely bald. I was a sight when I decided to try the Cuticura Ointment for the hair, and when I saw the wonderful results I decided to try the Cuticura Soap and Ointment on my body. After taking six baths in hot water with plenty of Cuticura Soap, and using three boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one bottle of Cuticura Pills, I was cured. My hair has grown more than an inch in length.

"Before using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment I lost all of my finger nails and my hands were so sore I could not put them in water. If I had tried them sooner I would have saved a few hundred dollars." (Signed) Mrs. K. Detlefson, 651 Knickerbocker Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., Jan. 24, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world, but those who wish to try them without charge may do so by sending to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 16A, Boston, for a liberal sample of each, post-free, together with 32-p. book on the skin and scalp.

"First in Everything."

AN "INCORPORATED TIN BOX" LAW.

The annual report of the Comptroller of the Currency contains the following:

> An amendment forbidding any officer of a national bank to directly or indirectly receive or accept money or other valuable thing from any borrower from the bank as a reward, inducement, or consideration for obtaining the loan from the bank of which he is such officer should also be enacted.

Episodes in St. Louis banking from which suits at law have originated must have been in the mind of the Comptroller when he wrote the recommendation. The proposed amendment would prevent the banking business from being conducted on the basis of the pawnbroking business. The language he uses would cover the case of the bank official who preys on the necessities of customers in temporary straits and holds them up before making them a loan and also the less direct and more refined technique of the incorporated tin box.

Another amendment which ought to be passed is one prohibiting national banks from lending their assistance to such paper transactions as that by which E. G. Lewis' University Heights Realty and Investment Co. was capitalized for $1,000,000 without the production of a dollar in money. Both amendments should have adequate penalties attached.

King Alfonso's attempt to suppress the Infanta Eulalia reminds us very much of Col. Roosevelt's awe-inspiring endeavors to squelch "Dear Maria."

PITIFUL FUTILITY OF CRIME.

George V. Steck's theft from the mails in St. Louis of $25,000 in $50 and $100 bills took place on Sept. 9, 1910. His problem of how to spend the money was more difficult than that of the hero of "Brewster's Millions," or of the Post-Dispatch reporter who went out to buy things with a $1000 bill. For a small salaried clerk to increase his personal expenditures for luxuries or even to tender notes of large denomination in payment for necessities was to invite suspicion. The fortune was of almost no use to him. After 14 months, when detection and disgrace came, he had enjoyed the benefit of hardly one dollar in twenty. What was there to compensate him for his terror of exposure during a year and for the further punishment that now faces him?

Frank L. Frick, who abstracted a $5000 check from the Francis Bros.' house, hid his unutilized $1300 of the proceeds under a floor covering. J. F. Long, who forged the indorsement and took the remaining $3700, was penniless when captured in New York after a transcontinental trip of riot and dissipation. Was it worth while?

These cases show the futility of crime. In taking the money of others, the incentive is what the money will buy. These typical instances of wrongdoing show that the value received is too inconsequential and pitiful to prove a temptation.

Wall street makes a justifiable demand for a flexible currency law, and is also very anxious for a flexible trust law.

"DEMOGRAPHY."

The superior persons or intellectuals, who study the rest of us as "demotic" subjects, have invented a new science, or at least a new word for what they think they are learning. It is "demography," and they have arranged for holding an international convention in its interests.

As "demography" is supposed to show what common sort of people stand and how they stand it, the first international demographic convention is to be held in Washington, which has just reported an increase in the average American death rate to 15 in the thousand. At the same time, it is reporting the rate of increase in the prices of food and other necessaries for those of the "demos" who still survive. After finding how these "demotic" or vulgarian survivors stand it, the professional demographists may proceed to discover how much further toleration under the processes of exploitation can be relied on for increased profits on decreased deliveries. Perhaps finally a few demographists may educate their uncommon intellects until they will really learn something to their own advantage at last that of their subjects.

MISCELLANEOUS MURDER CHARGES

Flushed with success as a detective employed to convict the McNamaras, William J. Burns makes miscellaneous charges of systematic murder against personal, political or commercial opponents. This, from an interview telegraphed to the Post-Dispatch, illustrates what no man living has a right to charge publicly against any other living man, except when an indictment is to be drawn or is to be supported by sworn evidence after having been drawn.

> I am satisfied that Gompers knew at the time the first piece of structural iron work was dynamited, back in 1906, who was responsible for it. Do you think the people of the United States will prefer now to believe Samuel Gompers or William J. Burns?

The answer to such a question hardly needs to be stated, except in illustrating what "detection" must be made to mean in the business and in the public utterances of professional detectives. Those who think rationally do not believe that Samuel J. Gompers has been an accomplice in systematic murder, and hence they do not believe that he has been detected in the crime of murder by Burns or anyone else.

The satisfaction a detective feels with the workings of his own mind or imagination does not set up even the inference of guilt against anyone he attacks because of his personal prejudices or his professional theories. Nothing counts in support of a murder charge except conclusive evidence.

A local morning contemporary quotes approvingly complaints of postal officials that the Post-Dispatch published the news of a theft in the Postoffice, thus leading to the discovery and arrest of the thief. Would our esteemed contemporary, had it obtained the news, have suppressed it and protected the thief and the negligent officials? Journalistic self-stultification prompted by envious bitterness cannot go beyond this.

RUSSIA TAXES OUR PATIENCE.

Russian affronts in discriminating against American citizens bearing the credentials of our State Department will, it is announced, have such action from Mr. Taft in the near future as an expected report from Ambassador Curtis Guild, at St. Petersburg, shows to be advisable.

It is inconceivable that these affronts should have been tolerated as long as they have by this country, were it not for the absorption of the public in domestic issues of the very greatest importance. They are a cause of unjust humiliation to individuals and dangerous as a possible cause of national irritation. If Jewish citizens of the United States, vouched for in the passports of the United States, are to be denied stipulated treaty privileges in Russia, then let those privileges be withheld from all citizens of the United States.

The country is out of patience because of the indecisive and academic fashion in which the matter has been handled by Washington. Infirmity of purpose, if not timidity, seems to be shown. Representations from Mr. Taft showing that this Government is in deadly earnest on the question would be practically certain to be followed by Russia's retirement from its untenable position. Should St. Petersburg, however, continue stubborn and unreasonable, there must be hesitation no longer. Material benefits secured to us by some parts of the treaty should not be permitted to compensate for injury to the national honor resulting from violation of the obligation of other parts.

The treaty under such circumstances must be abrogated at the earliest possible date.

More than 26 per cent of the world's known gold is held within the United States, but because of an ill-devised system of paper currency much of the potential utility of this tremendous stock of basic metallic money is lost to us in time of financial stress. In no other country of the world should currency famines be as uncommon as in the United States. In no other country are they as common.

ST. LOUIS BUILDING CODE.

Commissioner McKelvey is said to have described the St. Louis code of building laws as "blue laws," and to desire a change. A close adherence to these "blue laws" will in time give St. Louis the immunity of European cities from fire and save millions in fire insurance premiums. A few minor restrictions, such as those relating to electric signs, may wisely be modified, but there should be no general revision of the code for loosening the lid on unsubstantial construction.

It is the lack of laws prescribing proper standards in building which explains the appalling aggregate in fire losses in this country. St. Louis should not surrender its advanced place among American cities in this respect.

President Taft proposes a commission to advise the big corporations of the exact limit they may go without breaking the Sherman law. Unless the activities of the St. Louis police are to be curbed, a similar commission will be useful to advise citizens of the legal limit which private card parties must regard to prevent raiding.

ONE DUTY OF THE SENATE.

Universal peace will be civilization's most splendid achievement. In his consistent, forceful demand that the United States accept its manifest responsibility and lead the nations of the world in the pathway of peace, President Taft has the solid support of the great body of Americans.

This republic, free from foreign entanglements, protecting, but not coveting, her neighbor's property, opposed to wars of conquest, possesses unique qualifications for the leadership of the peace movement.

The Senate should approve without alteration or hesitation the arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France presented to it by Mr. Taft's administration. Any other course will put the United States in the disgraceful position of hindering, instead of helping, the cause of peace by blocking the way to France and Britain, if they are disposed to enter into treaties.

Religious wars are of the past. In the near future the power to sacrifice the masses must be, and will be, taken from selfish sovereigns and intriguing statesmen.

If the United States, through its [illegible] treaties [illegible] with England and France, cannot arbitrate differences, much will be accomplished in the cause of universal peace. The Senate of the United States should not stand in the way of the successful inauguration by the United States of this, the noblest work for humanity.

With the $25,000 registered package located, curiosity is naturally centered on what became of the $67,000 that disappeared from the Subtreasury.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

A YOUNG MAN ON THE HOFFMANN SHOW.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

To my mind, and I believe I am sincere in my purpose, the present attraction at the Shubert Theater, Gertrude Hoffmann and "Saison des Ballets Russes," is not all that it should be. It boldly claims to be artistic—well, assuming that it is, I would like to ask: Is it necessary to witness all the suggestive movements and poses as in both "Cleopatra" and "Scheherazade," two of the "dramas" of Miss Hoffmann's "aesthetic sensation," to witness true art in dancing, and should such an attraction be allowed to continue at one of our foremost theaters without proper criticism, and should people, including young girls and boys, be allowed to witness this performance, some of them blindly not knowing what they are going to see?

It is true, to a certain extent, that to "the virtuous" everything is good, but then we are not all possessed with that rare quality of mind; we do not possess the sense of discrimination and elimination, to properly appreciate this performance. Do you think, for one minute, that such performances should be encouraged to teach these things?

Monday evening I went to the Shubert Theater, partly through curiosity, I will admit. I had never seen Miss Hoffmann or her troup before, but had read the New York criticisms of the performance at "The Winter Garden," New York. Because I believe that many St. Louis people are going to see this performance for this reason, and also some, through innocent ignorance, I write this article, and I hope it will have its effect.

The account of the performance in a morning paper took no definite stand one way or the other. It told only the good and bad points of the performance, and left the reader to his own conclusions.

Let us imagine a girl with very high ideals. Suppose she read the Monday morning article. She may decide not to see the performance, and then again she may decide to see it, thinking that she is so strong in her ideals that the suggestiveness will not affect her in the least. Is it right that she should be put to this entirely unnecessary test, and then, in order to witness the artistic side of the performance, she should see an artist and a whole chorus of so-called artists go through the most daring movements ever put on our stage.

To be sure, the dancing of such artists as Marie Baldina, Mlle. Musseloff and Jan Jalewsky in "Cleopatra," the first "drama" is remarkable, but why are they introduced into such an atmosphere? Is it not because the managers, realizing that the suggestiveness will appeal to the majority, and that a few good people will see this "display," and not agree with the majority, and, as sometimes the good people get control of things and cause "displays" of this kind to be stopped by the police, they have taken this one way of pleasing the good people, also in hopes that they will overlook all suggestiveness? Is it because of any culture on Miss Hoffmann's part, or study or constant effort, or "right living" that she is able "to announce the aesthetic sensation of the English-speaking world?" If it is, why is it that she resorts so much to suggestive effects, such as bare feet, bare limbs, ridiculously exaggerated costumes, suggestive poses, such as lieing on divans with men in fond embrace, while the other "stars" of the troup, the ones who really do dance artistically, dress properly in short skirts and silk stockings.

The production is, indeed, an expensive one, and one of the most lavish on the American stage today, and Miss Hoffmann and her assistants have spared neither effort or money in producing this "display." The orchestra is, perhaps, as good as ever played in the Shubert Theater, and the "Romantic Revelry" called "Les Sylphides," is deserving of much praise. Strange to say Miss Hoffmann does not appear in this.

Probably I should not attempt to criticise a person much older than myself, who says she dances because she loves it for itself alone, another case of "art for art's sake," and does not receive any return for her work except "artistic appreciation," and works so hard to do all this for the hungry American art-loving people. But I am sincere in my purpose, and I don't believe it to be a bad one. From what I saw and heard among the audience Monday evening, I thought that many were present merely because they didn't know what they were coming to see, and I am sure many did not appreciate the artistic side of the display, and certainly the "dramas" worked one up into nothing less than a passion which ordinarily one should and would fight against.

St. Louis' Reputation.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Evangelist Smith says that St. Louis is wicked, that it has a bad reputation. St. Louis has not had a vice commission appointed—yet. Mr. Smith evidently has not been to Chicago. Citizens of St. Louis who know, resent the imputation that it is worse than other cities. We are a growing city and are progressing, perhaps slowly, but no one has a right to take a snapshot of us, hold it up to the world and say, "Here is a picture of St. Louis." The only picture that would do justice to any city, nation or the world is a sort of moving picture, a motion picture. The so-called evils are common to all large cities of every nation, ancient and modern. They spring mainly from our insane and chaotic industrial system of production and lack of socialized distribution.

Make these women economically independent and give the men enough to decently support a wife, and the so-called evils will disappear.

BENTON CORWIN.

How the Needy May Be Helped.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I wish you would inform "Little Bessie" that if any sick widow with children, or any other worthy case, comes to her attention again, she has but to ring up the Provident Association by phone, and the matter will be attended to promptly. I wish to assure her if the Provident Association had known of the facts which she states in her article, in which a poor widow was in need of a Thanksgiving dinner, she would have been served on Thanksgiving day, and would have been included in one of the 50 to whom dinners were sent by friends who asked the Provident Association to furnish them with the names and addresses.

CONSTANT READER AND SUBSCRIBER.

HAS IT?

From the Chicago Tribune.

It may be that Alfonso has called in the reporters and said: "Now, boys, don't quote me in this, but here's a pretty good little story for you: That aunt of mine over in Paris gives me a pain. She's an out patient if there ever was one. I'd just as soon have Emma Goldman in the family. Wait a minute and I'll get you some telegrams I sent her. Garcia, tell Canalejas to get me the Eulalia stuff out of the files, will you? Now, fellows, don't put a Madrid date over this. Have it come out of Paris. I don't want to have it traced to me, but I thought there was a pretty good little story in it for you. Garcia, see what the gentlemen will have."

Alfonso is a democratic King, but we wonder if he has come to this.

ALL THAT'S LEFT.

AMERICAN VOICES.

From the Kansas City Journal.

The dual triumph scored simultaneously in London by Felice Lyne and Orville Harrold, at the Hammerstein Opera House, is in the nature of corroborative evidence in connection with the declaration of the America basso, Putnam Griswold, that America is the great voice-producing country of the globe. The statement itself might be accepted only at a discount in this country, where appreciation of native talent is not be responsive as it should be, but the fact that an American makes it cannot lessen its significance in the face of conclusive proof.

MEDICAL LIBERTY.

From the Chicago News.

All schools of medicine must be permitted in this country to stand strictly on their merits. To legislate in behalf of any of them to the injury of the others would be intolerable. If bolstered up by the law the practitioner of the favored type would not have to rely thenceforth exclusively on his skill and might proceed to lower his standard of efficiency or to take other liberties with his legally established position.

Keep pills out of politics, that the national health and the national ideals of freedom may not suffer.

THE YOUTH IN POLITICS.

From the London Chronicle.

Professor Blackie was in favor of a higher age limit for parliamentary candidates than is at present enforced. "I remain decidedly of opinion," he writes, "that no man ought to open his mouth on the hustings or at public dinners till he is at least 30 years of age. Young men are absolutely incapable of political wisdom; it is the fruit of time and cannot be extemporised from the young ebullience of the brain like a brilliant lyric poem or a dashing novel."

GUGGENHEIM INTERESTS.

From the Kansas City Star.

Senator Simon Guggenheim explains that "private business interests" will prevent him from seeking re-election in Colorado next year. Mr. Guggenheim's "private business interests" are fickle. They are what prompted him to go to the Senate in the first place.

EVOLUTION.

I.

In days of old, when trusts were bold,
And barons held their sway,
The packers never were harassed
The way they are today.
They always laughed to think of jail,
That funny little place,
And in excess of merriment
Grew purple in the face.

II.

J. Ogden Armour's phone would ring.
"Ah, Armour! This is Swift.
Just heard an awful funny one
While coming up the lift.
There is a law forbidding trusts!
Ever hear that one? Eh?
Ha! Ha-ha" "Haw—haw—h-a-w—h-a-w!"
When barons held their sway.

III.

Morris and Tilden used to meet.
"Ah, Tilden! I'm delighted.
Had a good laugh today? Eh? No?
Well, we are all indicted."
"Haw—h-a-w! Hit me on the back!
That's a corker, Morris.
When are they going—h-a-w—to send
The Black Maria for us?"

IV.

But those old days are not these days,
As often is the case,
And jail no more continues such
A funny little place.
It looks like a kind of baronial hall,
And you couldn't make his nibs,
The baron, laugh as he used to do
If you poked him in the ribs.

LUCKY ST. LOUIS

Every once in a while a board fence is thrown around the front of some downtown building in St. Louis, and for a week or so the community detours into the street wondering what all the pecking is about within.

It is very simple, really. They are chipping the soot off. The soot is in some places two or three inches thick. It has the consistency of lava. Usually, when the soot is chipped off, the older buildings of St. Louis are discovered to be very beautiful, but this is not always the reason why the soot is removed. Sometimes it protrudes into the street to such an extent that it encroaches upon one of the narrow streets.

In some cities it is necessary to chip off the buildings themselves to widen the streets.

Two St. Louis men who were in trouble yesterday were bailed out by their grocers. It is well enough to say that blood is thicker than water, but it is a wise man in a pinch who puts his money on the molasses.

Two men speaking at the Wednesday Club yesterday had to be told that their time was up. The general notice to men as a whole will be issued a little later on.

The Book of Job Harriman will probably contain some very harsh things about the ladies.

About Film Dillard.

Film Dillard, who sojourns up near the cerulean headwaters of Gander Creek, got on his mule Sunday morning and headed for the Dog Hill Church, where he anticipated attending services and trading horses. But his mule hesitated here and there along the road to grass, and consequently Film was in the neighborhood of three hours and a quarter behind time. However, he proceeded on down to Hogwallow and rested awhile. He had not been here long before he sheered up a horse trade with Sim Flinders, giving him the mule for a long-distance, double-action squirrel rifle, a side of meat and a jug of Hog Ford Joy Producer.

Film was confident that he got the best of the trade, but the thing that puzzled him was how he could ever get home afoot with all of his new belongings.

It seems, though, that a fellow can always find a way out of a difficulty if he will only meditate sufficiently and this Film done on the stump in front of the postoffice. He then took the licker and got drunk, after which he shot a fellow with the rifle; the deputy captured him and fined him the side of meat and the rifle, and then hauled him home. Film is a schemer from away back.—Hogwallow Kentuckian.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

R. H.—Call dog Barkis.

STUBBORN.—Under the rule that a comma should be at the end of a clause, there should be one after "favor" in writing "Awaiting your further favors, we are," etc.

JUSTICE.—Widow having an estate for life by the will of her husband cannot dispose of the fee to the realty, nor give or squander the principal sum of the money she holds in trust, and in the latter case heirs can prevent the same by recourse to court. In the former case anyone purchasing the real estate from her, by her deed alone would hold no other title than she had. If the will gives her power to sell, the matter would be otherwise.

ANXIOUS.—As to disposing of mortgaged property, the statute states: Whoever shall sell or convey without the written consent of, or informing mortgagee, or shall fail to notify purchaser of the fact of property being mortgaged, or who shall injure or destroy, or remove or conceal, with intent to defraud, etc., any such mortgaged property, shall, upon conviction (if property exceeds $50 in value) be punished by imprisonment not exceeding 5 years, nor less than 6 months, or fine not less than $100 or both fine and imprisonment. If property be less than $50 in value either fine not exceeding $100, or 6 months in jail, or both. Your query of recent date was answered.

HENRY.—It used to be stated, and still is by fervid writers, that the Masonic order began in remote antiquity, but now, though similarity between it and the very old cults is noticeable, its source is generally traced to building associations of the Middle Ages. These at first, the eleventh and twelfth centuries, were composed of workmen employed on ecclesiastical buildings by Benedictine abbots, but afterward membership was not restricted to craftsmen. In 1717 the premier Masonic Grand Lodge of the world was formed in London, England, and the revival of Freemasonry began. Of course, the Roman Catholic Church was established before the Middle Ages.

W. D. S.—The foundation of the gas mantle is a woven cotton fabric, in the form in which the mantle appears when in use. This woven fabric is then saturated with a mixture of 99 per cent thorium oxide and 1 per cent cerium oxide. After the cotton has absorbed sufficient of the oxides the cotton is burned out, leaving the ash in the shape of the mantle. The mantle is then tempered, and saturated with collodion and packed. The first mantle was made by Dr. Carl Auer von Welsbach of Vienna. In 1880, when experimenting with rare earths, he produced a brilliant green gas light by soaking cotton in a solution of erbium and then burning out the cotton. After repeated experiments he produced the first commercially successful mantle.

CLARK.—See Notary's Manual (Gilbert Book Co., St. Louis). Notaries must be citizens of the United States. They are appointed by the Governor. Bond of $2000 required; bond of $5000 in counties of more than 100,000 inhabitants; two good sureties; law does not specify qualifications. Total cost, $26.50. Write Secretary of State for application blank. The knowledge required by a notary public depends upon the many things he intends to undertake. If merely for the convenience of some office, that office will probably know the legal requirements and do the instructing; if general notarial work is contemplated, knowledge of the law is absolutely necessary, as a misstep or error may be costly; to insure the public against this is one reason why a bond is required of him in Missouri.

IGNORANT.—All that is necessary is to have will witnessed by two disinterested persons. Having a notary acknowledge same is nonsense. It is advisable, however, that wills be written by someone who knows the law. Daniel S. Remsen of the New York bar, author of "Remsen on the Preparation and Contest of Wills," says: "The plan of submitting wills to a rigid criticism, after they have been made and before the testator's death, is new in the sense of its becoming popular. It is also justified by results. In a majority of cases such examinations reveal one or more weak spots, and frequently grave errors are found in wills drawn by lawyers of high standing. A little caution on the part of Mr. Tilden would have prevented his fiasco. As a result of this movement, I predict that the rising generation will be spared much litigation, and many fortunes will be saved from the blight of family discord.

HEISLER.—The Sherman law: Every contract, combination in the form of trust or otherwise, or conspiracy in restraint of trade or commerce among the several states or with foreign nations, is hereby declared to be illegal. Every person who shall make any such contract or engage in any such combination or conspiracy shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, he shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $500, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both said punishments, in the discretion of the court. Every person who shall monopolize or attempt to monopolize, or combine or conspire with any other person or persons to monopolize any part of the trade or commerce among the several states or with foreign nations, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by fine not exceeding $5000, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both said punishments, in the discretion of the court. (John Sherman introduced the bill originally. The law as finally passed was written by Senator George F. Hoar of Massachusetts.)

TRENTON.—Salted peanuts: Shell and scald the peanuts, to get rid of the skins. When skinned they should be thoroughly dried in the air and wind. Lay upon a folded towel while drying them. Put into a warmed baking pan with a few spoonfuls of the best salad oil and turn them over until coated with the oil. Then set in quick oven to roast, stirring frequently to brown them evenly and to prevent scorching. Turn out into a colander and strew thickly with salt, shaking steadily to dislodge superfluous salt and grease. Let them get perfectly cold and put them away in a dry place. Stewed Peanuts: Shell the raw nuts, and blanch by pouring boiling water over them. After they have stood a few minutes the skins may be easily rubbed off. Add to a pint of the blanched nuts about two quarts of water and put them into a bean pot, heat to boiling, then place them in a slow oven and cook for nine or 10 hours. When done, they should be soft, mealy, and rich with juice. No seasoning except salt will be required. If it is not desired to have a fire for so long a time, let them cook while the dinner is cooking, then put into a haystove to finish.

KLUG.—It was the Major-General of the army in the Philippines (Wood) who said English khaki was the better suited to the tropics than American. In some way several New England cotton manufacturers discovered in June that the War Department had purchased a quantity of British khaki in Manila to be manufactured there by Chinese labor into uniforms for the American soldiers stationed in the Philippines and for the Philippine constabulary. Straightaway a protest was lodged with the War Department. This protest was the means of bringing the matter to Secretary Taft's attention as he was about to retire from office because of his nomination for President. He cabled to Manila ordering the contracts to be held up, but the reply was that it was too late, they had been awarded. He then made a statement to the President, one of his last official acts, informing him of the contracts and recommending that the order be rescinded as to future purchases, which was done a few days later contracts were awarded to American manufacturers for a quantity of khaki more like the English fabric than the domestic previously used.

JAP KILLS SELF WHEN HIS EMPEROR IS INCONVENIENCED

Train Superintendent Dies Under Cars Because Ruler Had to Wait in Comonm Depot.

VICTORIA, B. C., Dec. 8.—Giving his life as atonement because the Emperor of Japan was forced to spend an hour delayed in a common waiting room, Moji Shijiro Shimidzu, a train superintendent, threw himself under a train, according to advices brought by the Awa Maru.

Shimidzu was in charge of the arrangements of the Emperor's journey from Kyushu, where he witnessed the big army maneuvers, and the imperial train was delayed as a result of the derailment of a car due to a misplaced switch.

Shimidzu left a letter saying he considered it his duty to give his life to pay for the Emperor's embarrassment. The Emperor was much distressed when the incident was reported to him.

Aw, Cut Out the Slang!

JUDGE HOMER—there's a classic name—
Thinks slang in court is horrid,
Don't say your wifie "nicked your bean,"
If you mean she scratched your forehead.

DON'T say she "threw a green-eyed fit,"
If she was simply jealous;
And don't describe your hubby's beard
As "ivy on his trellis"

AND, pray don't say "he hoed his mug"
If he used a safety razor.
The Judge can't understand such "bunk"
And slang he finds a "phazer."

Mrs. Chas. A. Stix Routs Louis Aloe in Suffrage Debate--and Husband, Too

She Engages in an Impromptu Debate at the Columbian Club, Going to the Assistance of Wm. Marion Reedy.

Mrs. Charles A. Stix and her husband sat in their home at 26 Portland place Friday morning and discussed with a Post-Dispatch reporter, Mrs. Stix's notable achievement of Thursday afternoon when she routed Louis P. Aloe in a suffrage debate.

Stix took three cigars from his pocket. He handed one to the reporter, took one himself and—handed the third to Mrs. Stix.

"Now that women want all the rights and privileges of men, I suppose you will join us in a smoke," he said, playfully.

"No, thank you," replied Mrs. Stix. "We haven't got that far. We want men's rights, not their bad habits."

"Beaten again," said Stix, hastily putting the cigar in his pocket.

Sorry It Wasn't Husband.

"I'm awfully sorry," mused Mrs. Stix.

"Why, because you broke into that debate?"

"No, because it wasn't you, instead of Mr. Aloe, that I spoke against."

Mrs. Stix then explained that when Miriam Lodge of the United Order of True Sisters planned the suffrage debate it was expected that Stix would be chosen to speak against women suffrage.

"But he backed out," she said. "He didn't even appear at the meeting yesterday afternoon at the Columbia Club."

William Marion Reedy was the speaker in favor of woman's suffrage and Louis P. Aloe took the negative side.

"I wasn't on the program," said Mrs. Stix, "but when Mr. Aloe asked how women would like to serve in the army and on juries I just couldn't resist the impulse to jump up and answer him.

"As to jury service, I told him that my husband and my father, Mr. Fraley, had lived in St. Louis all their lives and had never served on juries. If they could escape service, why couldn't women escape it? Mr. Aloe admitted he couldn't answer that argument.

"I told Mr. Aloe it was silly for him to ask how women would like to serve in the army. He missed the point entirely.

"You see, if women had the ballot they would never vote for war. Therefore we wouldn't have any armies, and of course women couldn't serve in the army if there wasn't any.

"I am for suffrage because the women want it.

"I think we should have anything we want.

"The men are to blame for this suffrage movement. They give women too much leisure.

"Women have servants to do everything for them—even to take care of their babies—and they have to hunt for something to occupy their time.

"I think it is better for society women to take part in the suffrage movement than to put in all their spare time playing bridge.

"I gave it to Mr. Aloe. I wish Mr. Stix had been there."

"Things are getting too hot here for me," said Stix. "I think its time for me to start downtown."

"That's the way with you men," replied Mrs. Stix. "When you can't answer our arguments you run away."

Mrs. Stix took the meeting by storm when she rose to reply to Aloe. Though many of the women at the meeting were avowed suffragists it was not believed that one could be found brave enough to join in the debate. Mrs. Stix's apearance in the field caused exclamations of surprise. When she lit into Aloe with a veritable broadside of argument there was a burst of applause and women crowded around the platform making Reedy and Aloe look like two masculine islands in a sea of femininity.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Stix's speech the salvos of applause were so loud and long that no one else had a chance to talk and the meeting came to an end.

Louis P. Aloe, whose batteries of eloquence were silenced by Mrs. Stix, admitted his defeat Friday.

"How can a man hope to win in a suffrage debate with a woman," he said. "I figuratively had both of Billy Reedy's shoulders on the mat. If I had known a woman was to join in the debate I would not have taken the floor. You see, I was at a decided disadvantage. There were nearly five hundred women in the audience. The meeting was packed against me. I didn't have a chance. That's all."

Believes This Will 'Cure Lung Troubles'

Consumption is a flattering disease—that is one of its chief dangers. Those who have it are rarely willing to acknowledge the fact.

If this trouble is present, it is no time for trifling. Don't waste time in argument. If a so-called "cold" has long persisted; if a cough is present that keeps you anxious, or any of the symptoms are present, such as fever or night sweats, weakness and loss of appetite, and perhaps some raising of mucus—do the sensible thing: take Eckman's Alterative, as Mr. Bettersworth did.

Bowling Green, Ky., R. No. 4.

"Gentlemen: I wish to say for your Alterative that I believe it to be a medicine of unequaled value for all Bronchial and Lung trouble.

"The Spring of 1908, I had a severe cough for six months. I tried all the medicine that my friends and doctors recommended to me, but no results came for the better. I had night sweats, and would cough and spit up every night until I got so weak I could hardly do anything. But at last, James Deering, of Glasgow Junction, insisted that I try your medicine, which I ordered at once and began taking the same. In one week's time there was quite an improvement in my condition, and after I had taken several bottles I felt as well as ever in my life. I never wrote any firm or company a letter recommending their medicine before, as there are so many fakes that a medicine of genuine quality don't get credit or even tried.

"I desire the world to know that I firmly believe that your Eckman's Alterative will cure any case of lung trouble if taken before the last stage. I will gladly write personally to any party wanting information in regard to your wonderful medicine." (Signed Affidavit)

A. C. BETTERSWORTH.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever; Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. DR. J. R. ROBINSON EXPECTED TO SUE FOR DIVORCE NOW

Failure of Wife's Action Makes Friends Believe Husband Will Seek Freedom.

WED 14 MONTHS AGO

Elopement Was Followed by Many Disagreements, Mrs. Robinson Declares.

Friends of Dr. Jesse R. Robinson anticipate that he will file suit for divorce within a short time, following the failure of his wife, Manette Thiel Robinson of 4024 Lindell boulevard, to obtain a decree.

The weakness of the wife's allegations, the chief of which concerned the loss of her dog and the conduct of her mother-in-law, caused Judge Fisher Thursday to refuse her a legal separation, although the husband did not resist her suit. New allegations, it is expected, will appear in the coming suit.

Dr. Robinson, a dentist, and Miss Thiel, daughter of the late G. H. Thiel, founder of a detective agency, eloped to Carlinville, Ill., and were married 14 months ago.

The Wife's Testimony.

Jeptha D. Howe was the wife's lawyer. In her petition and her testimony, she said her married life was happy until last February, when her dog disappeared. She asked her husband if he had the dog taken away. He became extremely angry, she said, and refused to call at her mother's home for her after she had gone there for a visit. He also told her that she must return to their home and ordered her to send an express wagon to take away her personal belongings. He told her that he would not enter the house if he found her there, she said.

She had her clothing and other effects removed to her mother's Lindell boulevard home. Later, she said, one of her woman friends called Dr. Robinson on the telephone and suggested a reconciliation.

Dr. Robinson's reply, according to the wife, was: "O, hell; let her go. I don't need her anyway." There was then a series of reconciliations and quarrels.

Says Husband Struck Her.

Last June, she alleged, her husband accused her of drinking and followed her about the house trying to smell her breath. She pushed him away and he struck her, knocking her across a bed, she said. Mrs. Robinson said Dr. Robinson never gave her any clothing and that all the money he gave her since their marriage was $2.

KNOX PURE PLAIN SPARKLING GELATINE

is an all-round kitchen necessity—it garnishes the meats, gives body to the jells, stiffens the sauce and gravies, thickens the soup, gives consistency to ices and ice creams, and is the basis for countless delicious desserts. Here is just one, for example.

Recipe for Maple Sponge. Boil two cups brown or maple sugar and ½ cup hot water to a syrup. Soak ½ package of Knox Sparkling Gelatine in 1½ cups cold water and pour hot syrup over this. Put in cool place; when nearly set, beat in stiffly beaten whites of two or three eggs and cup of English walnuts, cut up fine. Serve with custard made of yolks of the eggs, 1 pint milk and 3 tablespoonfuls sugar.

Every Knox package contains 2 envelopes of gelatine, the 2 making 2 full quarts of jelly.

Our Free Recipe Book gives any number of recipes for dainty desserts, salads, etc. Sent free for your grocer's name.

ACCUSED JEWELERS' CLERK GIVES BOND

Henry Schroeder Awaits Investigation of Reported $30,000 Shortage.

Henry Schroeder of 3639 Humphrey street gave a common law bond of $5000 in the Criminal Court late Thursday afternoon to answer any charge that may be brought against him in connection with a discrepancy in the accounts of the L. Bauman Jewelry Co.

Schroeder for 12 years, before his dismissal six weeks ago, was confidential bookkeeper of the company. Officials of the company Thursday gave out a statement that a $30,000 discrepancy in the accounts has been found.

Circuit Attorney Jones when asked the amount of the shortage smiled and replied: "Well, what was the amount of the bond?" In most embezzlement cases the bond is fixed at or near the amount of the defalcation.

RED EAGLE TO MORGAN

Official Announcement Gazetted of Decoration's Bestowal.

BERLIN, Dec. 8.—The bestowal of the decoration of the first-class of the Order of the Red Eagle on J. P. Morgan is officially announced in the Imperial Gazette today. At the same time the notification is made that the Red Eagle of the third class had been given to Richard August Schnabel of New York.

The insignia of the order were presented to Mr. Morgan during the Kiel yachting week.

Sincerity Clothes are as good clothes as any man would want to wear. In fit, fabric and workmanship they excel. "Croak" knows this to be the plain, unadulterated fact.

"CROAK" doesn't waste his time and spend his money telling the public of something he doesn't do. That sort of advertising don't pay. When we invite you clothing buyers to come here with the promise of unusual value-giving, we make good. That's why "Croak's" business grows.

We Continue That Great Sale of Suits and Overcoats Tomorrow

You've probably heard about it from some of your friends who bought here last Saturday. One of the leading clothing manufacturers of the United States offered Croak a bargain in fine suits and overcoats—the same kind of high-grade clothes that "Croak" has a reputation for selling. We weren't a bit slow about gathering them in, either, for we knew you wanted them, especially at a fourth to a third less than they are actually worth.

The suits are made of pure all-wool worsteds and cheviots, in beautiful blues, browns and grays; the overcoats are in full box and semiform-fitting Chesterfield, convertible collar, and other popular models. Six weeks ago nobody could have sold you these fine suits and overcoats for less than $25 to $30. "Croak" now offers you choice of entire lot for $17.50

Also a special lot of 300 Overcoats, new models, worth $18 and $20; choice $11.00
And 200 Men's and Young Men's Suits, $20 values, for Saturday $14.50

You'll find Croak "himself" on the job, anxious to personally serve his old friends and patrons.

SEVERE ITCHING AND BURNING ALL OVER.

Scalp, Body, Hands, Limbs Covered with Scales. Could Not Stand Torture. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

"About three years ago I was attacked with a very severe itching and burning all over my body and finally my skin broke until my body looked like a piece of raw meat. I did believe that I could not stand the torture any longer, while all the time I was using the salve and the wash ordered by my physician without relief. When I was advised to go to a skin specialist I went with no better results. My body was covered with large white scales, with scales on my hands, arms and lower limbs. In about one week my scalp was covered with scales which looked like dandruff but became worse each day until at the end of another week the scales were as large as on a fish. The itch in my head was unbearable. My hair was coming out in combfuls until it looked so bad I was ashamed to go on the street.

"I used tar soap for a shampoo but it took no effect. At the end of three weeks the back of my head was completely bald. I was a sight when I decided to try the Cuticura Ointment for the hair, and when I saw the wonderful results I decided to try the Cuticura Soap and Ointment on my body. After taking six baths in hot water with plenty of Cuticura Soap, and using three boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one bottle of Cuticura Pills, I was cured. My hair has grown more than an inch in length.

"Before using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment I lost all of my finger nails and my hands were so sore I could not put them in water. If I had tried them sooner I would have saved a few hundred dollars." (Signed) Mrs. K. Detlefson, 651 Knickerbocker Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., Jan. 24, 1911.

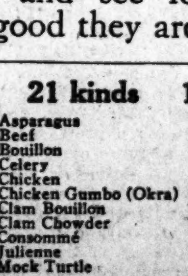

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world, but those who wish to try them without charge may do so by sending to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 16A, Boston, for a liberal sample of each, post-free, together with 32-p. book on the skin and scalp.

Mephistopheles Saved the Plate

A Masquerader's Story

By SOPHIE EARL.

Copyright, 1909, Short Stories Co., Ltd.

The Daily Short Story for Post-Dispatch Readers

"YOU'VE been out a good deal this winter, Helena, and we ought to think about returning the 'cutlet.'"

"'Cutlet,' auntie?"

"Yes; don't you know the old saying that society demands a 'cutlet for a cutlet?' Meaning that an invitation acecpted implies an obligation to return the same."

"Oh!" I couldn't imagine what cutlets had to do with my going out. Did you thing of a tea, a dance? What is it to be, auntie?" Helena's eyes were eager.

"I'm going to have a masquerade," said the older lady, firmly.

The girl screamed with delight and hugged her aunt.

"It's this way," said Mrs. Kay. "I've read of masquerades and all the wild adventures they arouse. My imagination has been aflame since girlhood with visions of travesties—queens, knights, gnmes, ghosts, who knows what? Yet by some quip in fortune I never attended a masked ball. Invitations I had; but something always happened to prevent me from going. So I mean to give that ball myself."

"I wouldn't," said Helena. "I'd be superstitious. I feel creepy. I don't want to be carried off on a broomstick!"

"We shall have plenty to do," resumed Mrs. Kay, ignoring this nonsense. "I must get the family plate from the bank and have it polished to do honor to our guests. Remind me to tell Aunt Melia to have the lusters dusted and washed; shine and glitter, with plenty of flowers, will cover a multitude of defects in old furniture."

The place was a health resort in the South, with white sandy streets, dry almost instantly after the heaviest rain, and built up with frame dwellings which in winter were packed with boarders from colder climes, sick people seeking health in this rose-scented air. Gay they were, too, those invalids; hopeful and ever ready for excitement or pleasure, and the inhabitants' view in providing amusement, because the gold of the Northerners kept the Southern pine alight in the capacious kitchens and the pots a-boiling.

One or two of the old-time mansions remained, and their proprietors, though they did not receive "paid guests," were well-pleased to approve the whirl of the little circle and were not too proud to frolic with the rest. To this class belonged Mrs. Kay and her niece, Helena. The young girl was a favorite and in constant demand for everything that was going on. Suitors she had in scores, but she cared for none of them; or, maybe, more or less for just one of them. Anyway, she dearly loved all the attentions she received and ever sighed for more.

Preparations for the masquerade went on apace. The plate, which dated from—as Aunt Melia put it—"long before anybody knows when," and had been buried during the Civil War and dug up afterward, was duly withdrawn from its safeguard of the bank and polished till it shone and shone.

Aunt Melia went to the store one day and greatly enjoyed the curiosity and queries of the people she met. "Miss Kay gotten de ole fambly silver t'ings ready for de marshparade ball," quoth she. "I'm glad I'm dumstick"——

"You're what?" asked a dark stranger who was leaning gracefully against the counter. "Oh, yes, I see! domestic. Well?"

"Glad I'm dumstick in a real good house whar de silver ain't new."

This boastful speech, made in public, had all the effect it deserved. Aunt Melia's colored friends beamed proudly to know one so distinguished, and the white people present looked uneasy. There fell an awed silence, ominous of ill, while Melia, unconscious of imprudence, waddled away.

All went on smoothly until one night within a week of the event. The silver was laid out in all its splendor on the massive old mahogany sideboard, just to see how it was going to look, and in the hurry and press of other occupations there it lay forgotten.

Forgotten? Yes, by its owners and its honest servitors, but kept in mind by the graceful stranger who had heard Aunt Melia's eulogies. Several large bags were already filled with the best pieces and lay waiting for certain assistant burglars to carry off, but for some reason they had failed to keep tryst, and there was nothing for this enterprising thief to do but to make off with his plunder, or to boldly enter again and bag some more. A lovely old punch bowl proved irresistable. He glided softly in.

Now it so befell toward midnight that a sojourner at one of the hotels who had been bidden to the ball suddenly jumped up and berated himself for having forgotten it. This, he said to himself, was the day and the hour, and without stopping to refer to his invitation card and verify the date, he hastily donned his costume and transformed into a scarlet Mephistopheles, threw on a long coat and sallied forth unobserved by anyone but the sleepy hotel clerk, who was used to the vagaries of "them boarders" and past emotions of astonishment or fear.

Still unaware of his error about the date, Mr. Darcy approached the house with feelings of surprise at the absence of light; even yet the fact of his mistake did not occur to him, but fearing something was wrong he walked to the side and found a long French window open; a dim light shone inside, and a man was standing before the sideboard putting silverplate into a canvas bat. Mr. Darcy was unarmed, but possessed of a good pair of fists and some neat tricks in boxing. His costume was also in his favor. He stepped inside, choose a favorable position and striking an appropriate attitude, waited.

The bag would hold no more; the thief turned and saw the fiend. Sinister, vengeful, the scarlet figure stood. With a cry of horror the burglar dashed through the window and away, while from the door across the hall came another shriek more musical but quite as full of fear. A vision of loveliness in a diaphanous white mist stood transfixed on the sill.

Sounds of stirring began to be heard. Uncle Mose and Aunt Melia slept in a wing for protection to their ledies; they now appeared with only two shoes between them and attired chiefly in two patchwork quilts hastily snatched from their bed. Into this singular group, from another door, came the mistress of the mansion in a flannel bathrobe. She had presence of mind enough to raise the dimmed gas light and Mr. Darcy, recovering himself, removed his mask and made his best bow. Everybody looked mystified; no one knew what to do, or say, or think, until Aunt Melia remarked pleasantly:

"Why, it's Mr. Darcy!"

"But," said Mrs. Kay, "I don't understand."

"Nor I!"

Nobody could.

"Seems considerable like he's having de marshparade whole week too soon. Uncle Mose, he looks awful becomin' in his bed-quilt costume—he—he"—— Aunt Melia, herself enveloped in suns, moons and stars of impossible colors on a white ground, might have found herself as amusing had she been opposite the mirror.

"A week too soon," repeated Mr. Darcy. "That explains my part of the complication—yet Miss Helena is in ball dress"——

"I was trying it on in my own room," she said.

"Ah, yes; but the burglar"——

"Burglar!" cried Mrs. Kay. "Was there a burglar?"

"Carrying off your family plate, which you left so temptingly spread out for his picking and stealing. There are two bags outside and he dropped this one. He took me for his unmentionable majesty come to settle accounts, and he fled for his evil life. So my mistake saved your silver."

Uncle Mose and his lively spouse were already out of the window after the missing pieces, and Mrs. Kay turned to her guest: "I can never feel sufficiently grateful for your bravery and prompt action," she said; "never hope to prove my appreciation."

"Well, here's the plate all intact," he answered. "Let us get it into the safe and see that the windows are more secure. As for the gratitude, you owe me none, since it was all purely accidental; but if you feel any heavy sense of obligation we can discuss its cancelling at some more appropriate time." He smiled at Helena, who blushed, while her aunt murmured something inarticulate.

"And now good night."

"Come again, Mr. Darcy," said Aunt Melia, putting in her oar. "Come to our marshparade, and next time mind you don't get here a week too late!"

Quickest, Surest Cough Remedy Ever Used

Stops Even Whooping Cough Quickly. A Family Supply for 50c. Money Refunded If It Fails

If someone in your family has an obstinate, deep-seated cough—even whooping cough—which has yielded slowly to treatment, buy a 50-cent bottle of Pinex and watch that cough vanish. If it fails, money back promptly, and without argument.

A 50-cent bottle of Pinex, when mixed with home-made sugar syrup, makes a full pint—a family supply—of the most effective cough remedy that money can buy, at a saving of $2. Gives instant relief and will usually wipe out a bad cough in 24 hours or less. Easily prepared in five minutes—directions in package.

Pinex Cough Syrup has a pleasant taste—children take it willingly. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative—both good features. Splendid for croup, hoarseness, throat tickle, incipient lung troubles, and a prompt, successful remedy for whooping cough.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of Norway White Pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol, and other elements, which are so healing to the membranes. Simply mix it with sugar syrup or strained honey, in a pint bottle, and it is ready for use. Used in more homes in the U. S. and Canada than any other cough remedy.

Pinex has often been imitated, but never successfully, for nothing else will produce the same results. The genuine is guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. Certificate of guarantee is wrapped in each package. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.—ADV.

A Charleston Woman Finds Pleasure in Recommending Resinol

So great is the relief obtained from the use of Resinol, and so startling are the results, that the following letter is only one of the many received every day, telling of some use, some relief or some benefit derived from the wonderful remedy. Read this letter:

"I think Resinol Ointment and Soap all you represent them to be. Resinol Soap is far superior to any soap made, and Resinol Ointment has no equal for all irritations of the skin. I take great pleasure in recommending both.

"MRS. A. WHITE,
"Charleston, S. C."

Resinol Ointment has wonderful curative properties, and when used on sores, pimples, etc., has no equal. It instantly relieves irritation and inflammation, eczema, tetter, scald head, ringworm, barber's itch, pimples, burns, scalds, chilblains, frostbites, cracked lips and chaps. Resinol Soap is medicated in the same way that the Ointment is, and when used either alone or with it, will be found highly beneficial. Your druggist knows the value and reputation of the Resinol preparations and has them for sale. Free trial samples will be sent you upon application to Department 97, Resinol Chemical [illegible]

"It would do no good," wearily replied the prisoner. "You would arrest me for frightening the birds."—Royal Magazine.

How Do You Make Cornbread?

$ TEN DOLLARS $

READERS of the Post-Dispatch are invited to answer the following letter of inquiry and send to the Post-Dispatch their most painstaking directions for making corn bread. A prize of TEN DOLLARS will be given by the Post-Dispatch to the author of the best recipe.

Address recipes to the Post-Dispatch and mark the envelope: Corn Bread Recipe.

To the editor of the Post-Dispatch.

AS I am a stranger in your city—though expect to reside here permanently—I am unfamiliar with many of the customs that obtain in this vicinity. My ignorance is more apparent when I try to cook dishes that are common here, but are scarcely known in Boston, which has been my home.

My husband, who preceded me to St. Louis nearly a year, says that I do not know how to make corn bread. I thought Johnny-cake, for which I have a splendid recipe, was what is called corn bread out here; but it seems I have been laboring under a misapprehension. Can you give me a good recipe for corn bread? I am proud of my skill as a cook and should like to show my husband that I can prepare all dishes he has grown accustomed to during our enforced separation. A BOSTON WOMAN.

Sifting Is the Secret.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

For corn bread:
One cup of cornmeal.
One cup of flour.
Two eggs.
Two teaspoons of baking powder.
Two tablespoons of sugar.
One teaspoon of salt.
Milk enough to make a thin batter.
Two tablespoons of melted butter.
Sift cornmeal, flour, salt, sugar and baking powder four times. Beat eggs light, then add milk, then the ingredients that have been sifted. Add butter last. Bake in a hot oven 30 minutes. Sifting is the main thing.

MISS A. LONG, 3732 Washington.

Missouri Method.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

My recipe for corn bread is:

Take one quart of rich buttermilk, a little sour; three fresh eggs, one-third cup sugar, one cup wheat flour.

Salt and soda each one large spoon; do this now, just before noon.

Stir in the cornmeal, to stiffen the dough; hurry, I am afraid the Bostonians are a little slow.

In a hot oven bake it complete; wait a minute. Listen—its good to eat.

Here in Missouri, with all our mules and money, we break off a chunk, spread it over with butter and honey, and think it is a treat.

They are coming to St. Louis, from the East and from the West, and they are wise, now someone just mention pies, you will start something; and open the culinary latch. Hush, kids, scatter; can't you see that I am reading the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

MRS. B. F. GREEN,
628 Marshall av., Webster Groves.

A Washington Boulevard Way.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Here is my corn bread recipe:

Two cupfuls of flour.
1½ of corn meal (yellow or white).
½ cup of sugar.
1 saltspoonful of salt.
3 teaspoonfuls of baking powder.
1 2-3 cupfuls of milk.
1 tablespoonful of butter or lard melted.
2 eggs.

Mix the flour, meal, salt and baking powder together thoroughly. Beat together the eggs and sugar, add the butter, then the flour mixtures, and last mix in quickly the milk and turn into a well greased hot flat pan to bake.

Thirty minutes.

Sour milk can be used instead of sweet milk, in which case a teaspoonful of baking soda dissolved in a quarter of a cup of hot water used and baking powder omitted.

MISS MOLLIE BEATTIE,
3907 Washington bl.

Simple, But Excellent.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

A simple, but excellent, corn bread recipe is:

One egg, ¼ teaspoonful salt;
One tablespoonful sugar;
Beat all slightly together;
1½ cups of sour milk and
½ scant teaspoonful soda, beaten in sour milk and added to sugar and eggs;
One cup white corn meal sifted;
One tablespoonful lard melted added to mixture just before pouring mixture into a well-greased and hot pan.
Bake about 20 minutes.

MRS. WM. F. LAWLER,
4059 Shenandoah avenue.

Brown and Hot.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

My corn bread recipe is:
3 cups sifted corn meal.
3 cups of buttermilk.
1 teaspoonful of salt.
Good half teaspoonful of baking soda.
1 egg.
Mix this all good and then add two tablespoonfuls of hot lard or bacon if you have any, and mix some more. Then put about a tablespoonful of lard or bacon grease in your bread pan, let it get good and hot, then put mixture in pan, bake in good hot oven until brown; serve while hot.

For Beautiful Hair and Lovely Skin

("Parisienne" in Woman's Journal.)

"Long, abundant and glossy hair is often the result of dry shampooing. Soap and water 'take the life out' and leave it brittle and colorless. For a dry shampoo mix four ounces of therox with four ounces of corn meal or with four ounces of powdered orris root. Sprinkle a tablespoonful on the head and brush it out and the scalp and hair will be clean, wavy and lustrous.

"To have a clear, velvety complexion, massage the face, neck and arms daily with a solution made by dissolving an original package of mayatone in eight ounces of witch hazel. It makes the skin lovely and soft.

"For chaps, cold sores, pimples and skin diseases there is nothing better than Mother's Salve. It heals cuts, burns, scalds and sores and is a wonderful cure for coughs, colds and catarrh."—ADV.

HUSBAND TRAILED TO TRYST BY WIFE, THEN HE ESCAPES

P. C. Georgen Flees While She Goes for Police, but Companion, Mrs. Schreve, Is Held.

FOLLOWED FROM HIS ROOM

He Formerly Was on St. Louis University Football Team and Studied Medicine.

Mrs. Ida Glenn Georgen of Chicago shadowed her husband, Philip C. Georgen from Wellston to Fifteenth and Olive streets to a tryst with another woman Thursday evening and confronted them, but before she could call a policeman, Georgen escaped. The other woman, Mrs. Julia Schreve, was arrested. The police are looking for Georgen.

Mrs. Georgen, then Miss Ida Glenn, was a department store buyer and Georgen was a student at St. Louis University when they met, more than three years ago. Georgen was a member of the football team and was studying medicine. They were married March 9, 1908. Mrs. Georgen says she had $1000, which he used in completing his education, but never practiced medicine, nor got other employment to support her.

Finds Letter in His Room.

They lived at Overland Park for a time, but had to give up their home, and Mrs. Georgen left him and went to her home at Engelwood, a Chicago suburb. Georgen took a room at St. Thomas Station on the St. Charles Rock road. Three months ago his letters ceased. Mrs. Georgen came here to investigate. She visited her husband's room in his absence and found a letter signed "From your Julia," and a post card picture of her husband with a baby in his arms. She was told that he occupied his room only about one night a month, and she was unable to find him. She returned to Chicago, but came back Tuesday and is staying with friends in the West End.

Mrs. Goergen made arrangements to be notified when Georgen appeared at his room. Thursday afternoon she received a telephone message that he had been there, and had taken a car for Wellston, and would reach there in 20 minutes.

Mrs. Goergen put on a heavy black veil and hurried to Wellston. She stood within a few feet of her husband as he stepped from the car, and when he boarded another car for downtown, she took a seat behind him. He left the car at Fifteenth street and walked south, she following him closely. He turned into an alley and disappeared into a stable.

As the stable was in the rear of 1502 Olive street, she went to that number and rang the bell. A boy answered. "Show me to the room of Mr. and Mrs. Goergen," she said. "They are expecting me. The boy escorted her to the second door on the first floor, and she knocked. Goergen opened the door.

"Good evening, Mr. Goergen," said Mrs. Goergen.

"Who are you?" he asked.

Finds Woman Behind Door.

Mrs. Goergen raised her veil. "I guess you know me now," she said. "Where is Mrs. Goergen and the family?"

The other woman, holding a baby in her arms, had stepped behind the door. Mrs. Goergen entered the room and confronted her. "I'm this man's wife," she said. "Whose baby is that?"

"It's my baby," the other woman said, "but not his."

Mrs. Goergen left the house and returned with a policeman. Goergen had disappeared, but Mrs. Schreve was held, and friends took care of the baby. Mrs. Shreve was taken to the Central District Station and locked up.

SQUARE-TOED SHOES FOR NEW WOMAN

Roomy, Too, Says Suffragist, and Corset Strings and Bed Post Will Be Divorced.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 8.—"The weak, helpless, clinging vine variety of woman is a thing of the past, now that woman suffrage is gaining its own," said Dr. Dora Greene Wilson, vice-president of the Kansas City Equal Suffrage Association, addressing the Woman's Dining Club here today.

"I do not mean that the voting woman's attire will be mannish," she continued, "but her shoe will be square-toed and roomy. She will wear clothing enough to keep her warm. She will not venture out into cold and sleet with low cut slippers and gauzy silk stockings for the sake of silly vanity, nor will she tie her corset strings to the bed post and strain at them in an effort to reduce her waist."

TAFT WRITES B. M. L. PANAMA INTRODUCTION

Letter Will Be Presenter to Canal Engineer by Delegates on February Visit There.

President Taft has written a personal letter of introduction to Clarence H. Howard, chairman of the Business Men's League Panama Committee, which will be presented to Col. George W. Goethals, army engineer in charge of the Canal zone, when members of the league visit the canal in February.

The steamer Parismina, which has been chartered for the league's 25-day tour, will carry many prominent St. Louisans.

Lewiston (Me.) to Have Ice Plant.

LEWISTON, Me., Dec. 8.—Taking advantage of an act passed by the last Legislature, Lewiston's city government will this winter establish a municipal ice plant. The building to be erected for a storage house will have a capacity of 1500 tons.

POTATOES IMPORTED TO RELIEVE SCARCITY

Shipments Arriving in New York Mostly From Ireland, $3 a Sack at Wholesale.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Importations of potatoes from abroad are beginning to arrive in this port, the main bulk of them coming from Ireland. Up to date this fall about 25,000 sacks have arrived.

Wholesalers quote Maine potatoes in the market here at $3 a sack and say this price is just about double the price of a year ago. Since early fall the price has risen steadily and $4 a sack is expected by February.

Not only is there a scarcity of potatoes in this country, but from practically all the potato-producing countries of the world reports show slack crops.

HER SICKLY CHILD

Is Now Strong and Healthy—Vinol Built Her Up

Every mother wants her little boy or girl to have a fair chance in the world. Make your children strong and healthy and they will grow up able to make their own way.

For ailing children there is nothing so good as Vinol, our delicious tonic, for it gives them a fine appetite, makes their blood rich and puts roses in their cheeks again.

"I have been giving Vinol to my little daughter," says Mrs. G. Elsaesser of Hackensack, N. J. "She was very delicate and I was worried about her. Vinol has built her up fine. She is strong and healthy now, with a good healthy color in her face which she never had before. It only took one bottle of Vinol to do this for her. She likes the taste of Vinol, too."

We could tell you of many others right in this town—but give Vinol to your puny child and see how fast it improves. We give back your money if Vinol does not do all we claim. Chester Kent & Co., Chemists. For sale by Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo.

MOTHER DEFENDS SUIT FOR CUSTODY OF TWIN GIRLS

Christian Halekel Declares in Demand for Daughters, Wife Uses Intoxicants.

MARRIED 32 YEARS

Children Declare They Would Rather Stay With Mother and "Go to Picture Shows."

To take his 11-year-old twin daughters "off the moving wagon" is the avowed purpose of Christian Haeckel, father of 11 children, who is seeking a divorce and custody of the younger members of the family. He declares that in the 32 years of their married life he and his wife have changed their place of abode not less than 35 times.

Three moves, he says, were made in the 18 months before his separation from his wife last July.

"My children have come to feel almost as much at home in a moving van as under a roof," the father complained Friday to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "I want them to get accustomed to staying in one place. They would be better off in the Lutheran Orphans' Home than they are at present, and I would see to it that they would get the best care and attention there."

Haeckel was until a year ago proprietor of a book bindery at 2609 North Fourteenth street, which does a large amount of work for the Public Library. He works daily in the bindery, of which his son, Oscar, is now proprietor. He is librarian of the choir of Zion Lutheran Church, and is one of the trustees of the Lutheran Orphans' Home.

Mother Has Four Children.

He lives at 1325 St. Louis avenue, the home of a stepsister. With him are three of his sons, Theodore, August and Edwin. With the mother, Mrs. Emma Haeckel, who lives at 2412 North Fifteenth street, are the twins, Lulu and Lily, 11 years old; Bertha, 14, and Julius, 17. Four grown members of the family have their own homes, three of them being married.

In his divorce petition, Haeckel asks for the custody of the four children now with the mother, while Mrs. Haeckel, in her cross bill, asks only that she be permitted to retain the twins.

"We want to stay with mamma," said the little girls when a Post-Dispatch reporter saw them in the mother's presence Friday. "She's good to us. Father won't let us go to picture shows. And we don't want to go to any orphanage, either."

Haeckel, in his divorce petition, says the family's many moves were caused, for the most part, by his wife's quarrels with neighbors, and that these quarrels were due to her fondness for drink. Her addiction to drink has greatly increased in the last ten years, he declares.

Mrs. Haeckel denies these charges, and in her crossbill accuses her husband of treating her cruelly.

GIRLS LOSE CASH TO KEEP AGES SECRET

Not Even Pension Promise Wins Admission of Date of Birth.

BOSTON, Dec. 8.—Not even for such allurements as a Christmas present of cash and promise of a pension, will the young women employed by the local telephone company reveal their ages. Recently the directors of the company voted to give the girl switchboard operators a cash present at Christmas, the amount varying according to age. It was announced that this Christmas gift would eventually develop into a pension.

One of the young men secretaries was given the task of tabulating the girls by ages. He began his work among the 150 young women employed in the main office. After a few hours of fruitless questioning, he reported that the task was hopeless, as not one of the operators would answer his questions as to the date of her birth. The scheme has been abandened for the present.

PAID 50 CENTS EACH FOR SEVEN KISSES

Now the Woman Says They Are Worth $20,000 More—a Jury Must Decide.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 8.—A jury in the Circuit Court will today pass upon the value of a woman's kiss. Margaret Bender, the woman alleges that seven of them, said to have been collected by force by W. T. Maget, a wealthy farmer, are worth $10,000 actual and $10,000 punitive damages.

Maget asserts that seven kisses, given with a free will at the time but for which he later was compelled to pay $3.50, are dear at even 50 cents each. He alleges that he was compelled to pay them by Miss Bender under the alternative of having a scene.

Railroad Man Writes Remarkable Letter.

In 1903 and 1904, I was a terrible sufferer for about five months with kidney and bladder trouble. I could not sleep nights. One doctor said I was going into consumption and gave me up to die. Had two other doctors but received no help from either of them and am sure I would have been in my grave had I not seen your advertisement in the "Marinette Daily Eagle Star." After taking several bottles of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root I was entirely cured.

In the last two years I have been a railroad fireman and have passed two examinations for my kidneys successfully so that I know that my kidneys are in excellent condition now as a result of your great preparation.

Yours very truly,
GEORGE KENSLER,
109½ 13th Ave. So., Minneapolis, Minn.

Personally appeared before me this 25th day of September, 1909, George Kensler, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

TO MOVE TO DISMISS HARVESTER APPEAL

Attorney-General Major Says Appellant "Is a Trust of the Rankest Order."

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 8.—Attorney-General Major said he will file in the Supreme Court of the United States a motion to dismiss the appeal of the International Harvester Co. from the ouster decree of the Supreme Court of Missouri as soon as the appeal reaches the court at Washington.

The Attorney-General contends the company hourly is violating the Sherman anti-trust law under the "rule of reason" laid down in the Standard Oil dissolution decree. "Under the Standard Oil decision," says the Attorney-General, "this company is a trust of the rankest order."

TEXAS REPORT IS THAT GEN. REYES IS IN ST. LOUIS

Message Signed With His Name, Sent From This City, Says He Is on Way East.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 8.—Gen. Bernardo Reyes is not in Texas trying to cross into Mexico, nor is he over the Mexican border trying to incite a rebellion against the Mexican Government, but is in St. Louis, according to information received here and to all appearances authentic.

A telegram was received at the local Reyista headquarters, according to those well informed, dated St. Louis and signed Reyes, which conveyed the information that the General, on whose trail hundreds of United States and Mexican Federal officials are camping, is on his way to Washington and New York.

It is said Gen. Reyes is on his way East to get in close touch with Francisca Ancira, who is to act as the Reyista agent and representative at Washington.

SOCIETY

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD F. GOLTRA of 4416 Lindell boulevard will give a large ball Friday evening at the St. Louis Club, in honor of Mrs. Goltra's sister, Miss Margaret Brown whom they will formally present to society.

Preceding the ball Mr. and Mrs. J. Dwight Dana will entertain at dinner for Miss Brown and the out-of-town guests, who will include: Miss Louise Dunning of Omaha, Katherine May Hall of Kansas City, George Merseren and William Comstock of Kansas City, Edward A. Cope, John Baum and Hallack McCord-Brady of Omaha, Robert Shephard and WKesley Gibson of New York, Barron Motter of St. Joseph and Warren Culver of Chicago.

The other guests at the dinner will be Misses Isabel Valle, Anna Wright Benoist, Marian Turner, Dorothy Haydel, Virginia Flad, Virginia Elliot and Katherine Peddle.

Miss Mary Garland Blair, daughter of Mrs. Edmund H. Blair of 3729 Delmar boulevard, and Richard A. Boyle were married Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the bride's home.

All the arrangements were as simple as possible, only the immediate family being present at the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Father Franzen of St. Alphonsus' Church.

The bride wore a traveling gown of dark green cloth, with a small hat to match. Her brother, Dr. Vilroy P. Blair, gave her in marriage.

Mr. Boyle and his bride have gone for a tour through the South and upon their return they will be domiciled at the Washington Hotel.

The bride is the granddaughter of the late Timothy L. Papin and is related to the old St. Louis family of that name.

Buy your automobile equipment and supplies at Behen's, King's highway and Delmar.

There will be a charity bazar at the residence of Mrs. James M. Franciscus, 10 Lenox place, on Saturday, Dec. 16, given by six little girls: Elizabeth Benoist, Julia Papin, Dorris Drummond, Erwin Hayward, Juliette Reyburn, Marian Franciscus. The proceeds will be personally expended by these young people who will help ti make Christmas day happy for six poor families. Hours 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The regular monthly meeting of the Cornelia Greene Chapter, D. A. R., was held at the home of Mrs. Johntrigg Moss, 6017 Von Versen avenue, Wednesday. The assisting hostess was Miss Essie Matlack. The guests of honor were Mrs. J. Shelton, regent of the St. Louis Chapter; Mrs. Kimball, regent of the Douglass Oliver Chapter, and Miss Jane Glover, regent of the Laclede Chapter. Mrs. J. Richmond read a paper on "Molly Pitcher." There were several vocal selections by Mrs. Douglass Jones.

The marriage of Miss Lulu Carradine, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Beverly Carradine of 4362 Morgan street, and Ben Allen Samuel was celebrated Thursday evening at the home of the bride.

The Rev. J. W. Lee officiated in the absence of the bride's father, who was detained in the west on business.

Mrs. Carradine gave her daughter in marriage and Mrs. M. C. Westbrook, the bride's sister, was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Misses Glendy and Josephine Carradine.

The bride wore a gown of ivory white satin trimmed with rare old rose point lace. A court train of satin fell from between the shoulders of the empire bodice.

Her veil was of tulle held with clusters of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor and bridemaids were gowned in pink and carried Killarney roses. Adafon Samuel, the bridegroom's cousin, was his best man and Messrs. Stuart Walker and Robert Stuart were groomsmen.

A reception followed the ceremony after which Mr. and Mrs. Samuel departed for their wedding journey.

They will be at home after Jan. 1, at 455 Laurel avenue.

Mr. Samuel is the son of the late Web M. Samuel, once president of the Merchants' Exchange, and resided with his mother in their home, 3407 Washington avenue. He is a brother of Newman and Russell Samuel, who now live in Cincinnati, and Edward Samuel of Chicago. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. John Spoor of Chicago, formerly Miss Fanny Samuel, and Mrs. Web M. Samuel of Cleveland.

NO TYPHOID IN OYSTER

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—The oyster has at last been exonerated of causing typhoid. A report by Health Commissioner Lederle, of New York City, gives the succulent bivalve a clean bill of health.

"For several years," the Commissioner says, "diligent investigation has failed to trace a single case of the disease to the eating of oysters."

HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN HAIR. SAGE AND SULPHUR MAKES GRAY HAIR VANISH.

Who does not know the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than sage and sulphur, if properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

If you have dandruff, or if your hair is thin or turning gray, get a bottle of this remedy from your druggist today, and see what it will do for you.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

LAKE IS LIKELY TO SCOUT AGAIN, IF HE ASKS JOB

Unless He Is Made Manager of Browns, New Englander Will Continue to Look Up Talent.

POSITION IS NOT EASY

Hundreds of Players Are Sent Up Annually, Only to Be Turned Back to Minors.

By C. F. LLOYD.

There are tricks in every trade, including that of the baseball scout. Probably no man in baseball has as many opportunities to have his "mitt greased" as the seeker of talent in the minor leagues. And the fact that hundreds of young tossers are annually brought up for trial, only to be turned back in a short time, would indicate that some of the men listen too much to the minor league magnates.

It is far better to pay a scout $5000 annually and get nothing in the way of talent than to hand out $2000 to someone who doesn't understand the business and be loaded up with players that cost $25,000 for which you can't get 30 cents if you try to peddle.

Col. Hedges of the Browns laid out a small fortune in expenses and salaries to his five scouts this season. Fred Lake and Charley Barrett were the busiest ones of the quintet, as they were kept on the go from April until August. Yet they didn't turn up very many finds. Barrett did the Southwest, while Lake worked the East. Still it is probable that they saved Hedges a lot of money by keeping him from purchasing a bunch of youngsters who have no chance in the world to make good.

Umpires in on Graft

There are a good many youngsters sent up who have difficulty in holding jobs in the leagues from which they are purchased. That would indicate that there is a little team work between the minor league club owner and the scout. The same thing goes for owners and umpires in a minor league. Some of these indicator handlers have a habit of touting a youngster and after his purchase by a big League club, to look for his "bit."

Whether Fred Lake continues in the employ of the Browns as scout depends on Hedges' selection of manager. Unless the New Englander is picked to succeed Wallace, it is probable that he will again serve as talent seeker for the Sportsman's Park team, although it is reported that he is sought as a purchaser and manager of the Lynn (New England League) team.

Charley Barrett is sure of his job as the St. Louisan has picked up several youngsters who have threatened to make good with the Browns. Hedges will appoint about five others to tour different sections of the country next season.

Roger's Men Fell Down.

It may have been misfortune in their cases, but the men employed by Roger Bresnahan failed to turn up any sensations for the Cardinals. He recruited a bunch of young pitchers, but of these Joe Willis and Eugene Dale, the latter a St. Louis boy, alone have made an impression with the Duke.

Of the pitchers who did not report this fall are Baker and Annis, both of the Tacoma (Northwestern League) team. It was reported that both were supposed to be sensations but the fact that Bresnahan has already asked waivers on Baker would indicate that he can't be much. Roger will have a good man in charge of his scouting bureau next year, but will do considerable skirmishing himself.

Jack O'Connor, former manager of the Browns, is thinking of going to New York to attend the baseball meetings there next week. O'Connor seeks a job as scout with Bresnahan's team and is said to have a chance to land. Bresnahan told him he would make his decision following the meeting in New York.

Davis Has Big Job.

Harry Davis is in Cleveland to pick a home. One of his biggest tasks will be to satisfy Vean Gregg, left hander. Inasmuch as Gregg was the sensation of the American League, he has a right to kick for a raise.

If Bresnahan could boost the Cardinals by passing Huggins over to the Reds, we wouldn't mind losing the "Rabbit," but Garry Herrmann could do worse than choose "Red" Dooin to run his club.

Coach Huff of the Illinois University team is booking exhibition games for the Illini. The Browns may skip over to Champaign for a game or two next spring.

Horace Fogel says Charley Dooin will have to look him up if there is to be a conference. Dooin is Irish, Fogel isn't and for that reason we have an idea that the red-head will do the receiving if there is to be any calling.

"The American League made a ten-strike in winning back Clarke Griffith," said Dick Kinsella, a pretty wise baseball man. "He hasn't had many winners but he's a great student of the game."

Basket Ball Notes.

The Missouri Athletic Club team was a winner in its inaugural basket ball game of the season Thursday evening. It took on the McKinley High School five and landed on top, 46-30.

Bob Newman and Richard von Dach, who starred as basket shooters at McKinley High, helped down their old team. Newman and von Dach were responsible for most of the Diamond Cherry wearers' points. Williams and Joern did well for the intersol astics.

The M. A. C. players will take on the Central High School five next week.

The C. B. C. Resolutes defeated the St. Malachy five, 23-12.

Belleville High defeated East St. Louis High, 40-11. Flanagan and Weingartner did the best point scoring for the winners.

WRAY'S COLUMN

A LITTLE BUSINESS TIP.

THE man who can corner all the headache powders in New York, next week, will certainly get his own price around baseball headquarters.

* * *

BUSY TIME FOR THE WAITERS.

IN view of the many important topics to come up for discussion, it is confidently anticipated that the Gotham baseball gathering will result in a corking meeting. With equal confidence we may predict that it will be followed by an uncorking one.

* * *

WHERE DOES HE STAND?

THIS Browns problem is indeed a tough nut to crack; and not least among its difficulties is to find the Colonel.

* * *

GIVE CAESAR WHAT'S COMING.

WALTER CAMP, Ted Coy and other All-American team builders seem to have hit with a singular unanimity on Howe, of Yale, as the best quarterback in the country. Of course the fact that the critics are Yale graduates has nothing to do with it. But it may be said, in passing, that if Sprackling of Brown were three-fourths as good as his season's record makes him out to be, he would have been given the position of first All-American quarterback, had he been a member of either the Yale, Harvard or Princeton teams.

Dalton, Sprackling and Wendell is the order in which the leading point scorers of the season ranked.

* * *

MIGHT TRY AN AUTOMATIC.

GRACIOUS goodness, Horace! Why don't you and Red Dooin take something for it? One of the best recommended ways to check a delirious vocabulary is to hire a hall. Prussic acid is also effective.

* * *

A DEAD CALM HERE.

DOOIN for Cincinnati, Stovall for Chicago, Hal Chase for the Sox, Elberfeld to the minors and numerous other baseball swaps seem to show which way the wind blows. None of the breezes ever set St. Louisward, for unexplained reason.

* * *

THEY ARE NOT PAIRED RIGHT.

MATCHING Grover Hayes against Tommy Dixon, if indeed the St. Louis Athletic club is contemplating this feat, would be about on a par with a bout between Billy Grupp and Harry Trendall. Dixon is a 122-pounder, while Hayes will fight best some ten or twelve pounds heavier.

George Kirkwood would be the boy for Dixon, if the local promoters want a 122-pound scrap. Unfortunately Kirkwood could not be induced to quit the trail of Joe Rivers, which has for the time led him to California.

GOTCH SIDESTEPS TROUBLE.

IF Frank Gotch isn't the smartest wrestler in the game, he's the wisest business man of the outfit. He showed his wisdom by tieing Yussiff Mahmout up to a contract to travel with him, thus eliminating the most formidable opponent in the catch-as-catch-can world today.

In fact, there are many who believe Mahmout can throw Gotch—men who have seen both at work.

In the meantime all the other clamorous title-hunters will have to surmount the big Balkan obstacle before they can get at Gotch. And all the Zbyszkos, Pedersens, Romanoffs and Karlas can't budge Yussiff.

This "unspeakable" will hold the title one day. Gotch merely is providing against the future by getting a string on the title, even though he may not be able to hold it himself.

QUALEY CAN TELL YOU.

ONE doesn't have to burn up money to cut a big dash. Many of our best bowlers are high rollers on moderate incomes.

* * *

A WONDER, OR A DRAWBACK?

FOR one so restless and peevish Hal Chase is "getting by" quite a while. In spite of the wonderful playing ability of this star, his disposition makes him an uncertain asset. In the last two years he has done the New York club as much harm as good. He "laid down" cold one year, and followed it up by jumping to the outlaws, whence it was necessary for the National Commission to lay down like a good Fido in the face of its own rules, to restore him. He stalled under Stallings, and last season even laid down on himself, while manager, taking time off and leaving his team at critical moments.

It isn't much wonder that New York is figuring on letting him go to Chicago. Still, any old sort of first baseman who will stick around now and then, is an asset in a League that is shy on first basemen of merit. Hedges will take over Chase, with what ever imperfections he may have, and give away about nine men in exchange.

BEN ADKINS HEADS NEW SPORTING CLUB

At a meeting of members of the St. Louis Athletic Club Friday morning, the following officers were selected: Ben C. Adkins, president; Walter Lavine, secretary, and F. W. Paine, treasurer.

It was announced that Tommy Dixon, the Kansas City 122-pounder, would be one of the principals in the club's first show at the Coliseum, Dec. 19.

BRITISH FIGHTER NO MATCH FOR JEANETTE

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Joe Jeanette of New Jersey never earned easier money in his life than he did when he knocked out "Jewey" Smith, English heavyweight, in the third round of a scheduled 10-round bout at the Fardon Athletic Club last night. Jeanette toppled Smith over with a short right to the heart, and Smith had to be picked up and carried to his corner.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Manager Roger Bresnahan of the St. Louis National League club came here from Toledo last night, but denied that he was on a hunt for ball players. Bresnahan said he was on a business trip to Harvey, Ill.

Gotch's Mat Title Safe From Horde of Invaders

Champion Signs to Manage Most Dangerous of Rivals Who Will Act as Buffer Against Foreign Wrestlers.

Almost every country in the world where wrestling exists as a sport, has a representative in this country after the world's title. When Frank Gotch snatched the crown from Hackenschmidt, several years ago, it shifted the mat center of the world from Europe to America.

Now the ambitious Graeco-Roman and catch-as-catch-can titans are flocking to this country. England is about the only nation of importance that has not contributed to the colony here.

There are Samsons and Siegfrieds from Germany, Pedersens from Scandinavia, Padoubnys from Russia, Zbyszkos from Gallicia, Karlas from India, Romanoffs from the Steppes and a veritable horde of unspeakable Mahmouts and Balkan wonders.

But they are all here in vain. Champion Gotch is intrenched with his title, with a buffer between himself and any ambitious aggressors.

Gotch has consummated one of the cleverest "coups" ever worked in the history of the mat game. He has outwitted both promoters and wrestlers aspiring to a return match and the big "gate money" that such a contest would net them. Gotch has the Bulgarian, Yussiff Mahmout under contract, and by so doing is enabled to stave off all challengers while touring the world. He is in a position finally to hand over the title to the great Turk grappler when he chooses to make such a move.

"Mahmout can defeat any of these wrestlers clamoring for a match with me," said Gotch.

"I have Mahmout under contract and I am willing to back him against any wrestler in the world. I propose finishing my tour of Europe and at the end of that trip may retire from the game."

Gotch tried to force Hackenschmidt to meet Mahmout last winter. The world's champion insisted at that time that the Turk could defeat the "Russian Lion" in a finish match. Mahmout at that time was under the management of Message and Krone and the men handling Hackenschmidt refused to have anything to do with this Turkish wrestler, asserting he had faked a match with Zbyszko.

The wrestling fans know now that Gotch was speaking the truth when he told them Mahmout could beat Hackenschmidt in a finish match. The Gotch-Hackenschmidt fiasco, in which the so-called "Russian Lion" proved a failure as a worthy opponent of the champion, was an eye opener to the wrestling public. It showed the fans that Gotch knows the relative ability of the heavyweight grapplers and knows who is worthy to meet him.

When all the wrestlers, in fear, passed up Mahmout, Gotch took the Turk with him on a tour of the world. The two grapplers will finish their trip through the United States about Jan. 1, and the champion will set sail for the old world about Jan. 15, if his present plans are carried out.

St. Louis finally has passed Boston for the upside-down leadership of the National Amateur Three-Cushion League. A defeat in Kansas City Thursday evening—the fourth successive reverse for the local entry—put Peterson's cue team at the bottom of the heap with a lowly average of .313.

Elmer Farrar played for St. Louis, opposed by Joe B. Kerr, and was slipped the short end of a 50-39 count. Farrar got away to a hurrah start and lead at the half-way mark, but Kerr improved as the game progressed, and won rather handily. The winner averaged 54, with a high run of 4. Farrar's best run was 3.

Joe Carney of Frisco, Cal., challenger of Alfredo de Oro for the Jordan Lambert three-cushion trophy, won the first block of his 100-point three-cushion match with John Horgan at the Rex Thursday evening, 50-47. The coast cuelst averaged .86 and made a run of 6. Horgan duplicated the high-run mark.

In the class B three-cushion match at the Grand, Bonfig beat Graves, 30-18. Winner had a run of 3; the loser 4. Graves plays Holland this evening.

Bright beat Bower, 30-18, in the class B three-cushion match at the Koney-Byrne, 30-22, getting a run of 4. Meyer and Shay this evening.

In the Printing Trades tournament, Quinn won from Evans, 50 to 48, in the billiard match.

The Columbus Club team will have a pretty good chance of defeating the St. Leos in Sunday's matinee at Athletic Park. That's because the champions will probably line up in the same weakened condition as they did last Sunday, when the Irish-Americans downed them, 1—0. Harry McCarthy's suspension will not be lifted until after Sunday, while "Bull" Brannigan is still ailing with a "Charley horse." "Double Jim" Flynn is also on the sick list.

Faculty members of Christian Brothers' College will play a team of sporting writers on the college campus Friday afternoon. Bruised shins are sure to be plentiful after the alleged contest.

The race in the Amateur League is the closest in the eight years' history of the organization. The St. Roses and Collegians are tied for first place, while the Rock Church eleven is but one point behind. The Visitations are bringing up the rear.

With the two Ratleans, two Millers, two McLaughlins and Lancaster on his team, Manager Stauf of the Rock Church eleven is pretty well satisfied with pennant prospects.

Sunday's schedule follows: Rock Church vs. St. Roses, and C. B. C. vs. Visitations.

BUT, ON THE OTHER HAND—

When a rootress and a rooter go to see a game of ball,
Does the rootress raise a rumpus and set up an awful squall?
Not so—she sits as dignified and frigid as can be—
For the she-male of the species is less rabid than the he.

When you hear a cry of "Robber! Oh, you Jimmy Valentine!
You second-story artist! You're a lemon and a shine!"
You'll know it is a rooter of the thirty-third degree—
For the he-male of the species is more rabid than the fe—.

When the game is in a turmoil and O'Brien's at the bat,
The attention of the rootress will be centered on a hat:
"Oh, isn't it a darling?" she will gurgle in her glee—
For the she-male of the species is less rabid than the he.

When the home team has been beaten and the rooter's feeling sore
And the rootress, all in innocence, inquires:
"What's the score?"
He'll grab his hair in anguish and incontinently flee—
For the he-male of the species has no patience with the fe—.

Schedule for Tonight.

At Grand—St. Louis League.
At Tower Grove—Tower Grove League.
At De Soto—Woodman of the World League.
At Vernon—Agoga League.
At Grand Central—Grand Central League.
At Olive—Meyer Bros. League.
At Washington—Bankers' League.

Those sturdy pin-topplers of the City League made a savage attack on the Maples Thursday evening. The bowling was uniformly good, with the Stifels as pacemakers, with a team total of 2874, the premier performance of the week. The Stifels, despite their great bowling, just did manage to cop the odd game from the Budweisers.

The Union Sodas took three in a row from the Old Lynchs and moved into first place in the championship race. The Old Lynch team still holds the high five-man score for the Middle West tournament at Des Moines, but was unable to cope with the strong attack of Jerre Ameling, Con Fuerman et al.

Ahlefeldt of the Stifels was the individual star of the evening. Ahlefeldt upset 622 pins, a performance that stood out as the best of the night. Gleason, also of the Stifels, knocked 612 for the runner-up honors.

The league results were as follows: Hyde Parks 3, St. Clairs 0; Union Sodas 3, Old Lynchs 0; Washingtons 3, Burkes 0; Metalics 2, Duffys 1; Otto Stifels 2, Budweisers 1.

Three matches in the West St. Louis Turn Verein League resulted in 2—1 breaks Thursday evening, the Kutter-Jansens, West St. Louis Ramblers and Al Thies' taking the odd tilt from the West St. Louis stars, Bears and Hoppe-Chelseas, respectively.

The Old Lynch five's total of 2770, which was high for the Middlewest tournament for four days, has been excelled according to late returns from Des Moines. The Alexandria stars of Des Moines toppled 2773 Thursday night and now hold the lead.

The Commission Merchant bowlers had a heap of fun without doing any damage to city records at the De Soto alleys Thursday evening. The Scheitlin-Hoffman five took three in a row from the Wabash (No. 1), while the Hegers and Hitz-Worth took the odd tilts from the Manns and Wabash (No. 2), respectively. Schelbaum of the Manns annexed individual honors with a 546 total, while his team took the team prize with a 2304.

MICHIGAN RELAY MEN TO COMPETE AT M. A. C. GAMES

Intersectional Championship Event Will Bring Cornell and Ann Arbor Together.

By W. J. O'CONNOR.

Just when the athletic fans were giving up the ghost—figuring the game gummed—the M. A. C. team came to bat Friday, and hammered out a victory in the News League. Pinch Hitter Bassett, the chubby leader of the cherry diamond, put over the knockout wallop in the ninth inning, after two demises. The populace went wild. The victory puts St. Louis back in the running in the News League.

Here's the idea:

The M. A. C. will hold its annual indoor track meet at the Coliseum in March—probably on St. Patrick's Day—and all the college stars of the country will be invited to attend. One special feature which already is attracting attention is a proposed relay race between a quartet of mercury-footed runners from Cornell and Michigan, a race that would involve the intersectional championship.

Big Schools Involved.

Incidentally, M. A. C. games this year will have an intercollegiate flavor. Aside from Michigan and Cornell, such formidable college teams as Illinois, Missouri, Nebraska, Drake, Kansas, Washington, St. Louis U., Westminster and Notre Dame will be invited. In addition a special division will be held for club teams with representatives from the Kansas City A. C., Chicago A. A., Illinois A. C. and M. A. C. However the relay races will be featured with the college teams in the spotlight.

Efforts will be made to make this meet one of the biggest ever held in St. Louis. Furthermore it is the intention of the local club authorities to make their annual indoor games attract as much attention as Penn's outdoor relays. For that reason an effort will be made to get as many college teams as possible in this year's race.

Dr. Bassett is an alumnus of Michigan and he hopes to cinch the entry of his alma mater. The Wolverines boast of many great runners and could send a six-man team here that would be hard to beat. Cornell will probably have a St. Louis boy on its star quartet. Frankie Cornett, the local flyer who developed into a speed merchant under the tender tutelage of Eddie Cochems, is on for the Ithacan relay team this year and stands a royal chance of making good. If he does he will be seen here.

If the collegiate teams enter, the event in which they compete will be held under the collegiate rules. The A. A. U. will give a sanction for the meet, but the amateur union will have jurisdiction only over the club teams. The two local schools, St. Louis U. and Washington, promise to enter full teams, as the Pikeway squad, especially, is strong on the track this year.

WAGE EARNER'S OPPORTUNITY

Men in factories, mills and stores, who study the situation, know how much better off the farming community is than the city man; a small tract of land to a man who will work it properly means comfort and plenty to him and his family and an assured provision in old age. I have a few tracts left that you can buy very reasonably and on terms that will suit any prudent man.

POST-DISPATCH RECORD OF MARKETS

COTTON GINNED TO DEC. 1 TOTALS 12,814,832 BALES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina have ginned thus far this year more cotton than ever before was grown within their borders.

Every cotton growing state except Arkansas, Mississippi, Oklahoma and Tennessee already have ginned more cotton than was grown in the states last year or the year before, according to the Census Bureau's cotton report issued today, showing the ginning prior to Dec. 1.

To that date there had been ginned in the United States a total of 12,814,832 bales, exceeding the total season's ginning of every year except 1904, 1906 and 1908, and coming within 638,000 bales of the total ginned in 1904, the record year.

During the period between Nov. 14 and Dec. 1 an average of 107,256 bales of cotton was ginned.

Ginning by states follows:

Alabama, 1,436,155; Arkansas, 682,049; Florida, 74,018; Georgia, 2,337,770; Louisiana, 313,614; Mississippi, 893,288; North Carolina, 829,150; Oklahoma, 783,741; South Carolina, 1,310,813; Tennessee, 319,763; Texas, 3,745,930; all other states, 88,741. Distribution of sea island by states: Florida, 32,359; Georgia, 51,288; South Carolina, 3810.

PROFESSIONALS MAKE PRICES ON SECURITIES

Outside Speculation Is Light; London Market Reflects Only Small Changes.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"Today's sharp decline on the Stock Exchange, which occurred under rather heavy selling, was ascribed by some people to the humdrum argument that the November boom had over discounted real events, and that therefore there was due some downward readjustment.

"By others, blame for the weakness was placed on the bank position—which is certainly perplexing. When it was declared that last Saturday's excessive loss of cash in the bank return (some $20,000,000 above expectations) was a consequence of 'ear-marking' gold for Canadian bank reserves, the common inference was that the 'ear-marked' cash would be released next Saturday, with a consequent rise in cash reserve on the bank return, even after allowing for $5,000,000 actual outward shipments this present week.

Banks Are Uncertain.

"But today the banks seemed strangely uncertain as to whether this would occur or not; and the whole incident is so novel and unusual that it would be venturesome to predict tomorrow's showing.

"This was not the last of Wall street's explanations for the decline in stocks; the Outlook article, with President Vanderlip of the National City Bank was cited.

"Mr. Vanderlip contributed nothing wholly new to discussion of what is the matter with business, except the rather extraordinarily sweeping statement that 'it is pretty generally agreed that business has ahead, the most serious situation that has existed since you or I have been observers barring the doubts and uncertainties of 1896.

Just how far from Wall street Mr. Vanderlip bent his ear in discovering this rather startling general agreement may be open to question; for, unless all other sources of information have been entirely at fault, that is not the opinion of Pittsburg, or Chicago, or Fall River, or of New York City nor of the Trinity Church.

"Movement of prices in the stock market was most of the day downward. The heaviest selling came about 1:30 o'clock, when such stocks as Reading, Union Pacific, United States Steel, Northern Pacific and Amalgamated Copper touched low level, with losses of from one to two points.

"This followed a period of great irregularity in the early trading, which continued almost from the opening, which was generally at prices that showed fratcional losses from yesterday.

"The movement, though, was nervous, with exctied selling in some stocks and relatively little support.

"In the last hour there was a partial rally, during which most of the standard shares recovered from half to one point.

Exchange Is Weak.

"The price of sight exchange on London fell nearly one-quarter cent for the day.

"The fortnightly census ginning report was interesting chiefly by way of preliminary to the Government's cotton crop estimate of next Monday. It showed 1,800,000 more bales ginned to Dec. 1 than in the corresponding period of any other year on record.

"The preceding two weeks ginning to be below either 1910 or 1908; in the past two weeks the cotton put through the gins breaks every record.

"The inquiry for money for short periods was made the more interesting by offers of 5 per cent for loans carrying the borrowers over the January settlement.

"These loans were not generally made for the reason that the banks were content to lend on call at the rates now prevailing for demand accommodation.

"The banks shifted loans again heavily and it was evident that the trust companies were drawing down their bank balances in order to make loans on call at 4½ and 5 per cent.

GARRISON IN PURSUIT

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Dec. 8.—Escaping while a prisoner at the guardhouse, John E. Fulton, private in battery 100, Coast Artillery, drew the entire garrison of Fort Leavenworth, with the exception of the hospital and signal corps, upon his trail last night.

Frequent escapes of guardhouse prisoners recently have aroused the officers. It is believed Fulton swam the river to Missouri.

GINNING REPORT CAUSES BREAK IN COTTON PRICES

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 3@7 points and sold off to a net loss of 13@15 points before the end of the first hour under scattering liquidation and local bear pressure, which was encouraged by the census report showing 12,814,832 bales ginned to Dec. 1.

Liverpool eased off following the publication of the ginning figures, but arbitrage houses continued buyers here on the differences, affording the market its chief support in connection with realizing by old shorts, and while fluctuations were somewhat irregular, toward 11 o'clock rallies were limited, and the market ruled within 2 or 3 points of the lowest.

Aside from the census report there appeared to be no particular feature in the news.

Offerings continued dull later in the forenoon, and the market was very much unsettled, with the active months selling about 15 to 16 points under the closing figures of yesterday, after the close of Liverpool had led to a reduction in the volume of arbitrage buying.

Comments on the census figures were generally bearish, and some of the people who have arrived here from the South recently contributed to the talk of big crops by saying that on their trip here they had seen much cotton still in the fields to be picked. The close was weak.

Spot quiet; middling uplands nominal. Estimated receipts at all the ports today, 82,000 bales, against 41,147 last week and 71,157 last year. For the week, 470,000, against 459,839 last week and 396,433 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 14,401, against 11,578 last year; at Galveston, 19,948, against 15,795 last year, and at Houston, 9522, against 12,130 last year.

Cotton spot closed quiet, 20 points lower; middling uplands, 9.20c; middling gulf, 9.45c; sales, 2800 bales.

Deposits Have Shown Substantial Decrease.

With some of the large nationals carrying as much as 55 per cent cash reserve against deposits and practically all of the downtown institutions heavily intrenched in liquid resources, it seems difficult to understand how rates can be aught but easier during the balance of the month.

Some commercial paper has been bought by one or two banks since the call for statements at as low as 4¾ per cent net, but these have been the rare exceptions. The average may be said to be back to 4½ per cent and plenty of money is now available on the best collateral at that rate. Deposits have shown a substantial decrease, with some of the banks, owing to the shipments to the cotton-growing regions.

Steady markets in the Argentine, predictions of light world's shipments for the week and a rather bullish construction placed on the Government acreage report showing 32,213,000 seeded, against 32,640,000 revised figures a year ago, gave wheat a steady tone Friday after a drive by the bears had forced out some stop-loss orders.

Trade, however, was intensely professional and in the late session liquidation again developed which carried prices sharply lower for the day.

Receipts in the Northwest also showed signs of falling off, Minnesota getting only 396 cars of wheat, against 887 last week and 290 last year. Duluth had only 37, against 59 last week and 79 last year. Winnipeg, however, rolled up 546 cars, against 220 last year, and Mineapolis wheat stocks increased 1,650,000 bu for the week.

Broomhall estimates the world's wheat shipments for the week, exclusive of North America at 5,200,000 bu, against 6,216,000 bu last year. Europe should take about 4,400,000 bu. Total shipments last week were 10,912,000 bu, and last year 13,200,000 bu. He predicts a moderate increase in bread stuffs on passage.

Argentine wheat shipments for the week were 376,000 bu against 880,000 bu last week and 504,000 bu last year. Corn, none against none last week and 4,398,000 bu last year. Wheat shipments Jan. 1 to date, 86,714,00 bu against 70,632,00 bu last year. Corn 3,020,000 bu against 97,376,000 bu last year.

Australian wheat shipments for the week were 1,232,000 bu against 464,000 bu last week and 328,000 bu last year. Indian, 344,000 bu compared with 944,000 bu last week and 680,00 bu last year.

The official Liverpool cable said: "The weaker American cables were offset here by the closing steadiness in Buenos Ayres and prices were unchanged to ⅛d lower, with the undertone steady. Following the opening there was free covering by shorts and prices advanced ¼d to ½d with the principal strength in March. Support was due to a private cable received here of rains in the North of Argentine over night, and now unsettled with a withdrawal of Plate steamers and a general tightening up of Plate offers. World's shipments other than America are expected to be light and there was a slightly bullish construction placed upon the Government report. The Continent bid more freely for wheat. Corn opened unchanged, and later advanced ⅛d on the strength in America, decreasing stocks and a better demand for spot."

Liverpool wheat futures closed ¼d to ½d higher. Corn, ⅛d to ¼d higher. Antwerp wheat ⅝c up, and Berlin ⅝c up and Paris unchanged to ⅜c up.

Local wheat receipts today were 25,300 bu, or 16 cars local, 17 through; last year, 40,581 bu, or 436 sacks, 30 cars local, 6 through. Corn receipts today, 126,000 bu, or 80 cars local, 25 through; last year, 63,600 bu, or 42 cars local, 11 through. Oats receipts, 32,300 bu, or 11 cars local, 8 through; last year, 66,300 bu, or 28 cars local, 11 through.

Corn was weak along with wheat after showing early strength. There was little in the news, but total receipts overran last year's. Oats were easier along with other grains.

Total primary wheat receipts today were 685,315 bu, against 658,880 bu last year. Shipments, 245,390 bu, against 164,200 bu last year. Corn receipts, 991,110 bu, against 756,000 bu last year. Shipments, 406,060 bu, against 368,550 bu last year.

Crop expert B. W. Snow has the following report: "Westford, Ind.—On account of the severe freezing with the ground full of water and unprotected by any snow, wheat is looking thin and bare. Corn husking is about half completed; the yield is fair and a good deal of soft corn and some of it damaged. Monticello, Ind.—Bad weather for husking and considerable corn is still in the field, but it is not badly damaged as yet. It is yielding 35 to 75 bu per acre. Considerable disease among hogs here."

Exports of wheat and flour today were 303,044 bu; of corn, 1962 bu; of oats, 4989 bu.

Bradstreet's export figures for the week showed:

	Wheat and Flour.	Corn.
This week	3,391,600	76,000
Last week	4,855,000	144,000
Last year	3,498,000	167,000
Two years ago	3,990,000	570,000

Exports, wheat and flour, July 1 to date, 74,009,000; same period year ago, 53,226,000; increase, 20,783,000.

Exports, corn, July 1 to date, 10,908,000 bu; same period year ago, 8,279,000 bu; increase, 2,529,000 bu.

Cash wheat closed 1c to 2c lower, with the market dull.

Cash corn steady for the low grades, but ½c to 1c lower for No. 3 and better grades; fair local and shipping demand.

Cash oats a shade easier all around and dull.

MODERN MILLER.

Complaints are more general of the unfavorable condition of the winter wheat crop. The early severe freezes, when the late-sown wheat was in a tender condition, and Hessian fly damage are now followed by freezing and thawing weather in many localities. Moderate rains have fallen in Texas, but more is needed.

DEATHS.

Sheep	300	2,339	748
Horses and mules	150	500	100

NATIVE CATTLE—Receipts in this division were light, even smaller than the usual Friday supply. Quality was mostly ordinary. Trade was rather slow. Steer market ruled steady. Butcher cattle were slow and weak. Canners were also on an easy basis and sluggish sale. Stockers, bulls and calves manifested a steady tenor.

HOGS—The hog trade was fairly well supplied and the market was on a steady basis. The butcher and shipping hogs sold at $6.10@6.40; mixed hogs to the packers, $5.50@6; fair best lights under 160 lbs., $5.25@5.85; fair grade lights, $4.50@5.20; pigs, $4@4.85, and the throwout roughs, $5.75@6. The top was $6.40 for choice heavy hogs, sold to one of the shippers, while the bulk of the hogs went at $5.65@6.10. The market closed on a weak basis and the clearance was poor. Most of the holdovers were pigs and light weights and not very good as a rule. Good quality medium and heavy hogs were very scarce and have been for a good long time.

GUARANTEED FIRST MORTGAGE PARTICIPATIONS

Investments that represent part-ownerships in approved securities.

PARTICIPATIONS or part ownerships in securities are not a new and untried form of investment. They are universally adopted as a means of dividing or splitting up basic securities among a large number of investors. Familiar illustrations of their common use are stocks and bonds.

Guaranteed First Mortgage Participations are applications of this principle as applied to First Mortgage Loans on high-class city real estate. They enable investors to participate in this security for any amount from $50 up and for any length of time from two months to five years.

That's the Proper Way to Pronounce Hyomei, the Famous Catarrh Remedy Made from Australian Eucalyptus and Other Antiseptics. Just Breathe It.

It Kills Catarrh Germs

If you will use a common sense method, getting rid of catarrh is easy.

Germs cause catarrh, you know that and you also know that in order to end catarrh you must destroy the germs.

In every HYOMEI outfit which is sold by druggists everywhere there is a little bottle of antiseptic liquid that will kill catarrh germs.

Pour a few drops of this liquid into the little hard rubber inhaler which comes with the outfit and breathe this now antiseptic vaporized air over the membrane of the nose and throat infested with catarrh germs.

It's pleasant, soothing and healing is this vaporized air and it is really the only remedy known that can reach and kill catarrh germs. Complete outfit. $1.00. It is guaranteed not to contain cocaine, opium, or other habit-forming drugs. Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo. N. Y.

BOY, 15, SLAYER OF MARSHAL, IS SENT TO REFORM SCHOOL

Albert Merk Must Behave at Boonville Institution or Go to the Penitentiary.

TERM IS INDEFINITE

Lad Killed Night Officer Guinard of Maplewood While Sought on Another Charge.

Fifteen-year-old Albert Merk, slayer of Night Marshal Guinard of Maplewood, presented a puzzling problem to Judge Taylor in the Juvenile Court Friday, when his trial on a charge of first-degree murder was called.

So much testimony as to the boy's vicious acts was presented as to convince the Judge that it would not be safe to leave him at large. On the other hand, Dr. Sidney Schwab testified that young Merk had an active intellect and qualities of leadership, and that, if placed among other boys in a reform institution, he would be certain to have a bad influence over them.

Believes Boy Is Abnormal.

Judge Taylor, after considerable pondering of the question, announced that he saw nothing to do but to send young Merk to the Training School at Boonville for an indefinite term. "But if your behavior there is not good," he warned the boy, "you will be transferred to the penitentiary. Don't make any effort to escape, or to stir up trouble among the other boys, or you will find yourself in Jefferson City."

Young Merk escaped from the Boonville school the last time he was there, and also escaped from the St. Louis Industrial School. He set fire to the jail in Pacific, Franklin County, when he was locked up there, and it was for this offense that he was being sought when he killed the Maplewood officer at 4313 Swan avenue, St. Louis.

Hugh Fullerton, probation officer, testified that he believed the boy was abnormal, inasmuch as nine arraignments in the Juvenile Court, and frequent application of the parole system in his behalf, had failed to improve his conduct.

Fullerton said the boy's surroundings had been unfavorable, and that the part of the city where he was brought up had no playground, branch library or other uplifting influence for a boy.

Dr. Louis Rassieur, who attended Guinard before his death, said the wounded officer told him that he took no precaution against resistance on the boy's part, as it did not occur to him that so small a lad might have a weapon. The boy said he bought the revolver for $1.50 from a tramp.

"10 PRETTIEST GIRLS" SUED FOR LEGACY

Relative of Eccentric Ohio Bachelor Seeks to Break Peculiar Will.

CANTON, O., Dec. 8.—The 10 prettiest girls in the Stark County Courthouse are likely to lose $1000 cash each if the suit started by Letitia Rudy to break the will of the late Samuel Rudy is successful.

Rudy was an eccentric bachelor of 86 years. He frequented the courthouse and 10 of the most beautiful girls employed there were often complimented by him upon their stunning looks. He died two months ago and when his will was read it was found that he had left $10,000 to the 10 prettiest girls "because he liked them."

The 10 girls have been made defendants in the suit to break the will. Miss Rudy, a relative of the bachelor, says she cared for him and his household for 19 years and is entitled to the money.

PINCHOT SAYS TAFT CANNOT BE NAMED

Announces La Follette's Candidacy and Avers President's Renomination Impossbile.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—"I will say now that I think Mr. Taft's nomination is improbable, and I believe that in two weeks I will be able to say that it will be impossible."

These were the concluding words of Gifford Pinchot, delivered to 300 members of the Press Club, whose guest he was last night.

Pinchot announced the candidacy of La Follette and said that the progressive movement already had the west and middle west. Though he mentioned no names, he referred to Secretary Fisher as a "middle-of-the-road progressive" who was likely to "get steam rollered."

Harris Stores Co. Banquet.

The regular monthly get-together business boosting banquet of employer and employes of the Harris Stores Co. of Broadway and St. Charles street and Seventh and Chestnut streets was held at Lippe's at 6 o'clock last night.

The topic under consideration was "How Can One Store Help the Other," and after a blackboard talk by Mr. Cortlandt Harris, president of the firm, numerous suggestions were made by the employes of both stores.

Among the things emphasized were neatness of the store and employes, readiness to serve, courtesy, readiness to correct mistakes, prompt delivery of goods, etc. The bookkeeper announced a large gain during each year of the stores' existence.

AVIATOR RUN DOWN BY OWN AEROPLANE

Frederick Halt, Student, Has Experience With a Driverless Benoist Machine.

Frederick Halt, aviation student, was run over by a Benoist aeroplane in which he had made his first flight Thursday afternoon. After circling the field, he landed suddenly with a jolt which threw him from his seat.

One of the small rubber-tired wheels passed over his back, and the driverless machine continued its way across the field. Halt had shut off the motor, but the momentum carried the aeroplane along. He chased it 100 yards, and stopped it by grabbing the planes and holding on. Halt was not injured, and the machine was only slightly damaged.

MOTION PICTURES OF HIS SON'S BIRTHDAY

Five-Year-Old Will Have Picture Record of His Boyhood Taken Each Year.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Sinclair Hatch, son of Samuel G. Hatch, passenger traffic manager of the Illinois Central Railroad, in after years will be able to look back on his boyhood days through the medium of moving pictures.

Sinclair was five years old yesterday. He entertained 20 playmates at a birthday party. His father had moving pictures taken of the children at play. Hatch says he intends to do this on each succeeding birthday until the boy has grown to manhood.

YOU SURELY MUST TRY THIS WHEN YOU HAVE A SEVERE COLD OR THE GRIPPE.

The most severe cold will be broken and all grippe misery ended after taking a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

You will distinctly feel all the disagreeable symptoms leaving after the very first dose.

The most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, running of the nose, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness, rheumatism pains and other distress vanish.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.—ADV.
